Mill Dam Plan Approved But Will Be Challenged

By Susan K. O'Neill

Tuesday night, the Planning Board gave its approval to definitive plans for Mill Dam Estates, a subdivision to be located between Woburn Street and Rattlesnake Hill Road.

While the action established the town's clearance for development, it did not settle legal differences between the owners of the 61.9 acre piece of land and an abutter seeking access to his landlocked property.

The approved plans for the Mill Dam Estates cluster subdivision include a 10-foot-wide permanent easement, which will originate at a cul-de-sac and cross land deeded to the town for open space under the cluster division bylaws. Following legal discussions between lawyers for both parties, owners John DeLoury and George Morey added the right-of-way to allow Karl and Charlotte Soderberg passage to their abutting landlocked 13-acre parcel of property.

At 10 feet, the easement, which the Soderbergs maintain has been established by ancient deed, will be wide enough for a driveway. It will not support the building of a road wide enough to serve future subdivision-style development of the Soderberg land.

At the meeting, Karl Soderberg expressed his discontent with the 10-foot easement, maintaining that his attorney, in dealing with the lawyer representing the owners of Mill Dam Estates, had not agreed to the width.

Principal Planner Nancy Jeton explained that she had tried to contact the Soderbergs' attorney, but that he had not returned her calls.

Soderberg said that his lawyer had been on vacation recently.

Jeton countered that she had tried to contact the attorney prior to his vacation; those attempts, she said, had also been unsuccessful.

To buoy his case for a wider easement, Soderberg handed the board a document, dated 1979, which he said characterized the land he had inherited from his grandparents as a woodlot. The woodlot designation, he maintained, would have required a wide access road—one wide enough to accommodate wood-bearing carts and rigs.

"We have had previous situations of woodlots," said Jeton; she stated that, in such cases, the presumed use of carts and rigs had made no significant difference in the established width of a given path.

Soderberg maintained that, given the potential for future development of the landlocked parcel, "It seems to me that it would be wiser for the town that that road be made a 50-foot road." He then criticized the board's actions in waiting until just prior to the Mill Dam definitive plan hearing in November to notify him that DeLoury and Morey were planning to develop their land.

"To clarify the problem, you were notified properly," said Chairman Margaret Bradshaw. She explained that state law does not require the notification of abutters for preliminary plans. She then called for a board vote on the definitive plan, saying, "Our legal staff has advised us to vote on the 10-foot wide easement to your property...If there are further legal problems with this, they'll have to be settled at a later date."

The vote for the plans—with the stipulation that there be a sidewalk on one side of the road for the safety of children walking to bus stops—was 4-0, with Bradshaw abstaining. A second vote,

Guarding The Cold

Diana Davison, crossing guard at the South School, got bundled up against the year's and winter's coldest temperatures Wednesday morning as she stood at her post at Woburn and Ballardvale Streets. The cold snap, which arrived Monday and produced sub-zero temperatures, is expected to ease its icy grip on the area today.

To Lecture At Academy

Craig Whitney

Phillips Academy will welcome Craig Whitney, PA '61 and assistant managing editor of The New York Times who will lecture for the 1986 Headmaster's Symposium entitled "The Soviet Union: Beyond Stereotypes, toward Understanding." Whitney, who served as a deputy foreign editor in Moscow between 1977 and 1980 will speak on Wednesday, Jan. 22, at 6:45 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium. The title of his address is "Will the Soviet Union Survive Until the Year 2000?" The public is welcome at no charge.

Named assistant managing editor in September 1983, Whitney began his journalism career at The Worcester Telegram following his graduation from Phillips in 1961 and Harvard in 1965 magna cum laude. After a three-year term in the United States Navy as public affairs officer, he returned to the Times as an assistant to James Reston in the Washington bureau. Whitney served as bureau chief in Saigon where he covered the 1972 North Vietnamese offensive and the short-lived ceasefire of February 1973.

While in Moscow in June 1978, Whitney was accused in a Soviet law suit of slandering the Soviet State Radio and Television Committee in a news report about the televised confession of a dissident. The Times maintained that the article was fair and balanced and the Soviets, after convicting Whitney and a colleague from The Baltimore Sun, in absentia, dropped the case.

This year's Headmaster Symposium is designed to offer a realistic view of Soviet culture offering speakers, films, exhibits and discussions. Although these events will take place primarily during April and May, upcoming "pre-symposium" activities include a talk by Oberlin College professor Vladimir Frumkin on "Soviet Unofficial Music" on January 29; a discussion by Soviet emigre fiction writer Vassily Aksyonov on February 9; and a Soviet film, "The Twelve Chairs," directed by Leonid Gaidai and based on the novel by Ilf and Petrov. A full schedule of events open to the public is available through the office of public information at Phillips Academy.

Guests are welcome. Child care for the Tuesday unit may be arranged by calling Karen (Mrs. Bruce) Young by Friday, Jan. 17.

The study committee, chaired by Joyce Robinson, has developed a set of questions designed to seek consensus from league members as to what improvements can be made to open town meeting as it is now practiced in Andover. The questions involve the present quorum requirement, time for calling to order and adjournament of each session, scheduling of sessions, rules of order, citizen's petition procedures and cable televising. As recommendations come forth, any consensus will be recorded and subsequent action will be sought either through the moderator or future warrant items.

Jean Salazar, committee member, has been contacting nearby leagues who have open town meeting. She has obtained a video tape made by the Chelmsford LWV as well ss other practices towns have found effective. Other committee members reporting will be Marilyn Ness, Debby Moggio, Chris Holmes and Barbara Worcester.

League members only are allowed to shape the consensus since they are responsible to take action on the positions reached. Membership is open to any citizen of voting age. An opportunity for a half-year, half-price membership for new members only is available for persons who wish to participate as a member in coming league events. Persons may contact membership chairperson Thesese (Mrs. Walter) Reichert or Julie (Mrs. Alan) Stratton for more details or join at either of the unit meetings.

Decongestants

Congestion in the nose and sinuses is caused by swollen, expanded blood vessels. Decongestants cause constriction or tightening of these blood vessels, opening the air passages. Decongestants are chemically related to adrenalin so they also act as a stimulant. The side effect is a nervous, jittery feeling, which can cause difficulty going to sleep and elevate blood pressure and pulse rate.

Studying In Spain For Term

Samuel White, a junior Political Science/Modern Language major at Union College, is studying in Seville, Spain, this winter under Union's Term Abroad Program.

White, the son of Edward and Sylvia White, 16 Harlton Circle, Andover, is a 1983 graduate of Lawrence Academy.

The Term Abroad Program was established in 1969. Students spend a 10-week college term in a foreign country and receive full credit for their work. A Union College faculty member accompanies each group and is responsible for supervising the program and teaching one course each term. The other two courses are taught by professors from the host country. Students generally live with area families, ensuring close contact with life and customs of the various countries.

Union, an independent, coeducational college with 2,000 undergraduates, offers programs in the liberal arts and engineering. Founded in Schenectady, N.Y., in 1795, Union was the first college chartered by the New York State Board of Regents and is among the oldest nondenominational colleges in the country.

Russian Art Exhibit Opens

"Art for the Masses," an exhibition of Russian revolutionary art, will open at the Addison Gallery of American Art, on the campus of Phillips Academy, Andover, on January 17 and be on view through March 2.

The exhibition features the works of more than 30 artists who were active in the decade following the 1917 revolution. Since many of Russia's best artists put their talents toward affecting social change, many works in the exhibition demonstrate how innovative art can be used for political purpose. Selected from the extensive collection of Merrill C. Berman, the exhibition encompasses the many styles and schools that flourished in Russia's post-revolutionary years showing the didactic and aesthetic uses of art.

"Art for the Masses" focuses on the art of the large-scale poster (several in the exhibit exceed four feet in height) and the different techniques used to create their revolutionary designs. Side-by-side with the massive posters will be smaller displays of book and typography designs, futuristic costume sketches and constructivist reliefs. Included are works by El Lissitsky, considered the father of modern typography, Aleksandr Rodchenko, a forerunner in the development of photomontage, and Lubov Popova, who constructed mechanical stage sets for the avant-garde theater.

The exhibition was organized by Darra Goldstein, assistant professor of Russian at Williams College, and produced by the Williams College Museum of Art. Goldstein authored and helped the museum publish a 48-page, color-illustrated catalogue which interprets and documents the exhibition's 73 works of graphic art. Gail H. Roman of the Vassar College art department also contributed an essay to the catalogue.

"Art for the Masses" is being presented in conjunction with Phillips Academy's Headmaster's Symposium, "The Soviet Union: Beyond Stereotypes, Toward Understanding."

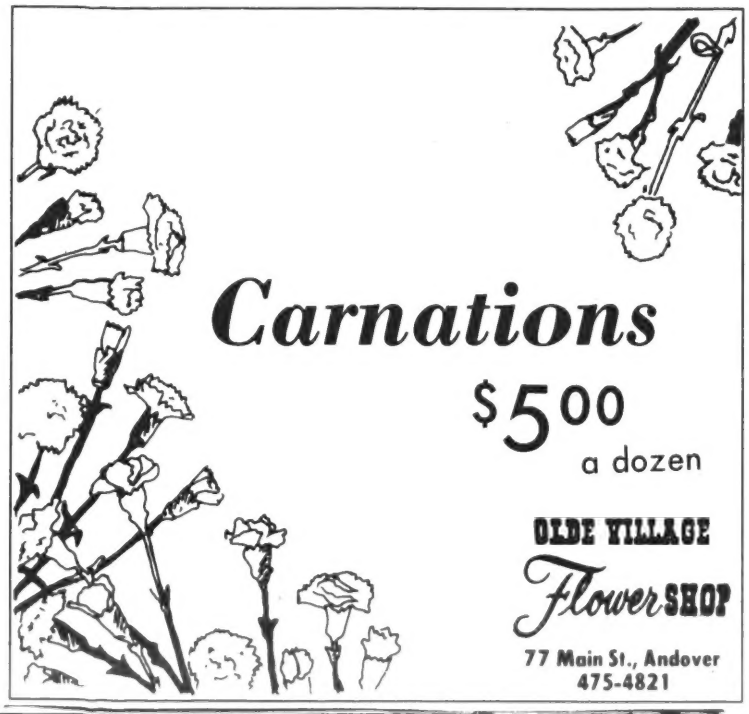

The Addison Gallery is free and open to the public. Hours are Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. The gallery is closed Mondays and holidays.

Problems Cause Recycling Delays

By Cynthia Hollenbeck

Although Andover's paper recycling pickups are still being handled by Graham-Bernier of Malden, the same contractor that has served this community with increasing efficiency since April 1985, changes in drivers and workers have caused unusual delays in the past several weeks. Early darkness, snowbanks along the roads, mechanical breakdowns, a series of holidays and much longer "down time" because of a paper plant winter vacation shutdown have all compunded the problem. Unlike the trash collection contractor, who has three trucks in Andover on any given day, the recycling contractor has to cover the same route with only one truck. Backup is not so readily available if the clutch goes out, as happened recently, or if a tire goes flat, as one did last week.

Andover Recycling, Inc., telephone information volunteers suggest the following ways that residents can cooperate for better pickup:

Always double or even triple bag or tie paper securely to ensure that it will stand up to wet weather, even if left out for several days.

Put paper in the same clearly visible place each recycling period. Keep well apart from trash, do not bag in trash bags and do not cover, even if it rains.

Leave paper where it is, even if you think you have been bypassed. Collections may continue long after dark and well after 5 p.m., especially on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Pickups may be delayed until the next day. The driver tries to return to bypassed neighborhoods the next day or by the end of the week. If paper has been properly prepared, there is no need to bring it in at night. Cleanup work is done when equipment and workers are available and does not follow a predictable schedule.

Some neighborhoods are picked up as early as 7 a.m. Paper may be put out the night before.

If it is snowing, be sure that recyclables remain clearly visible.

The recycling contractor, Andover Recycling, Inc, volunteers, and town hall personnel apologize for paper pickup delays and wish to assure Andover residents that every effort is being made to deliver dependable service to all households.

The Miracle Worker

In one scene from The Miracle Worker, the famous play about blind/deaf Helen Keller and her teacher Annie Sullivan, Annie takes a fond leave of a group of blind children in Perkins School for the Blind. Andover Community Theatre, which will present its production of the play in February, recently held a rehearsal of that scene with an interesting twist. Kimberly Enders, the actress potraying Annie Sullivan, blindfolded her young co-stars. After an initial scramble of confusion, the "blind girls"rehearsed their scene—first, in blindfolds, then, ultimately, without. The contrast between the scene as played before the blindfolded rehearsal and the final product was a marked one. Photos clockwise from upper left: The finished scene: Kimberly Enders comforts Vanessa Hill, while Diane Dresser and Jessica Hill stand by; Playing the scene in blindfolds; Kristin Alberich ties a blindfold on Natalie Belkin; Kimberly Enders (Annie Sullivan) discusses her idea with her fellow actresses.

St. Robert's School Registering

St. Robert's Country Day School celebrated its 16th year of operation with a birthday party on January 8.

St. Robert's, a semi-cooperative nursery school on Haggets Pond Road in West Andover, was the originator of the maxi-nursery program in the Andover area. This is a program for children who miss the September 1 cut-off date for kindergarten and are five years old by February 28 or for those who would benefit from an extra year of pre-kindergarten work.

The school also offers a two day per week mini program (with a third day option) for children who are three years old by August 31 and a three day per week regular nursery (with an optional fourth day enrichment) for those children who are four years old by August 31.

Althogh the school is located in Andover, it draws pupils from surrounding areas, including Ballardvale, Lawrence, Tewksbury and Lowell, and is non-denominational.

Registration for the 1986-87 school year will be held at 9 a.m. on Thursday, Jan. 16, at the school.

The word "paradise" originally was the Persian word for a royal amusement park.

BABY TALK

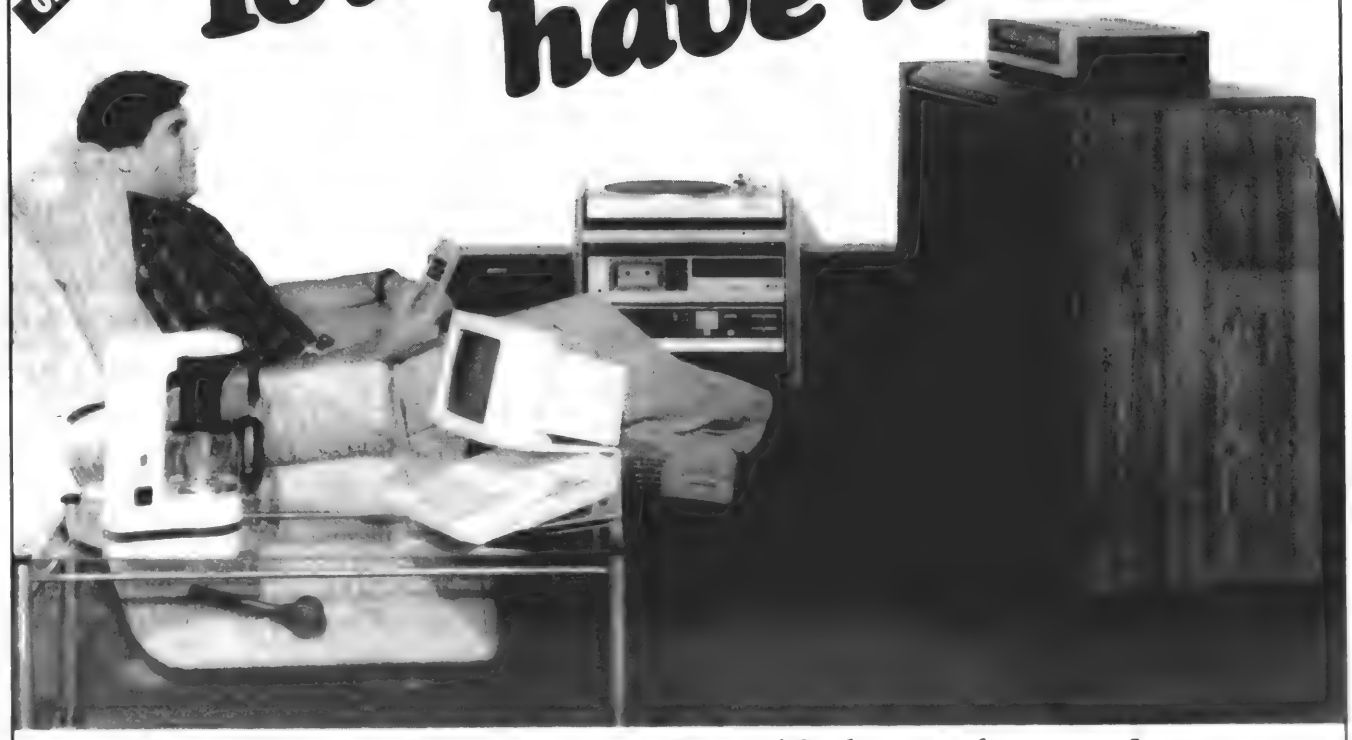

by Jack Resnick

A couple's motivation for wanting additional children is influenced by many cultural, emotional, and financial factors - childhood experiences; pressure from family, friends, and society; relationships with spouse and existing children; age; income; job; and personal aspirations among them. In some parts of the world, large families are preferred. In certain cultures, desire for a boy and for continuance of the family name take top priority. In the United States, a large-scale survey found that the most commonly cited reasons for wanting more children were to love and care for the child and for the pleasure of watching him grow.

New Surgical Day Care Services Offered At Lawrence General Hospital

There is a completely new look to the Surgical Day Care Center at Lawrence General Hospital.

Recently completed renovatons have not only improved the appearance of the center, but allowed the hospital to provide even more special services for patients.

"In 1974, Lawrence General became the first area hospital to develop a formal program of surgical services without requiring overnight stays," said Joseph McManus, executive vice president at Lawrence General Hospital. "These renovations have given the Surgical Day Care Center an attractive, new look and have allowed us to offer additional services for the comfort and convenience of patients."

Access to the center is now more direct and convenient. Patients can be dropped off right at the Surgical Day Care Center's new canopied entrance just off Prospect Street.

Parking is also much easier. There are new, short-term parking spaces at the Surgical Day Care Center entrance for dropping off and picking up patients. A parking service is available for day surgery patients who want to have their cars parked for them and there is a nearby, reserved parking area for patients and their families.

Patient admitting is now handled directly at the Surgical Day Care Center and not in the hospital's admitting department. The new admission and reception area also provides a comfortable waiting area for patients' family members and friends.

The Surgical Day Care Center is also open on Saturdays to accommodate patients who find it difficult to take time off from work during the week.

Finally, the hospital is now offering a hotel service plan for day surgery patients who do not require nursing care as an economical, overnight option before or after surgery.

"These new services offer patients greater conveniences," explains Robert Higgins, vice president of planning at Lawrence-Andovers Regional Health Systems. "But the main advantage of having surgery at Lawrence General are still the excellent quality of medical care and the immediate availability of experienced professionals in the event of a medical emergency."

Cooking

Cooking courses, taught by professional staff of culinary arts department at Essex Technical Institute, Route 62, Danvers, start Friday, Jan. 31, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and run for 12 weeks. For information and registration, call the admissions office.

A Stroll Down Memory Lane

Saturday night was indeed a stroll down memory lane as a number of people dressed in poodle skirts, bobby socks, saddle shoes, leather jackets, letter sweaters and any other outfit that fit the occasion for Chubby "The Twist" Checker and Danny and the Juniors' memory lane concert at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts. Checker had the audience of 1,200 twisting the night away in the aisles and any place there was space. Seconds after each time he started to dance, a woman or two would make a mad dash towards and onto the stage, just to twist for a minute with the man who will go down in history because of this dance sensation he started back in the 50's. Danny and the Juniors kept the crowd going in between Chubby Checker's two sets with a number of their hits, "At the Hop" and "Twistin' U.S.A." A "Sock Hop" in the A.H.S. cafe followed the concert, adding more evidence to that old saying "Rock and Roll is here to stay." Photos clockwise from upper left: Chubby Checker moves across the stage; Checker begins to twist away; A big thank-you hug from a fan who danced on stage with Chubby; Felicia Lawrence Levister steps into the spot light on stage as she and her poodle twist to the music; the crowd takes to their feet; Chubby Checker sings out a song.

Outing Club Concludes Successful Fall Program

By Lester Taylor

The Saturday, Dec. 21, professional hockey game between the Boston Bruins and Minnesota North Stars marked the second annual "Outing Club Night at Boston Garden" and brought to a close the 16th fall program.

Since September, club membership grew to 125 students with the addition of Beth Streeter, Jennifer Chunias, Michael Sintros, Mark Shwetz, Gwendy Duff, Jonathan Lewis, Reed Newton, David Hughes, Kristine O'Sullivan, Kerry Grieco, Ben Dawson, Michael Plati, Julie Newman, Kathy Bailey, Diane DeRosa, Ian Elliot, Peggy Dugal, Kim Gould, Jonathan Shine, Julia Worcester, Heather Rotondi, Steve Flaig, Carolyne Beaty, Terry Ray Colley II, Eric Begg and Anita Culver.

The first activity of the season was a visit to Apple Acres, a commercial orchard in Windham, N.H. Students picked apples, observed processing and grading procedures and viewed cider pressing in the farm store.

The second activity took students on a cruise 15 miles off the Atlantic coast to Stillwagen Bank aboard the "Whale Safari" to get close-up views of humpback whales rollicking in their natural habitat.

The 161st edition of the Topsfield Fair was the third activity. Students toured the fairgrounds with stops at the Farmer's Market, Touch & Tell Animaland, Sportsmen Show, Essex County Farmyard, chick hatching exhibit, competitive livestock show, 4-H Club project demonstrations, beekeeping and other educational exhibits. Then, all received tickets for the amusement rides on the Midway.

The fourth activity involved canoeing along the Ipswich River through the Ipswich River Massachusetts Audubon Society Sanctuary in Topsfield-Boxford. This meandering stream is one of New England's most popular canoeing rivers.

Mt. Chocorua in New Hampshire was the site of the fifth activity. Students climbed the peak, one of the most popular in New England, enjoyed lunch and the scenic views from the summit. Catching the fall foliage at its peak was an added attraction.

Collecting rocks and minerals at Ruggles Mine in Grafton, N.H, represented the sixth trip. Students enjoyed exploring the giant rooms and tunnels with arched ceilings in the world-famous, 179-year-old "Mine in the Sky." While more than 150 different minerals have been recovered here, students were able to collect about 12-15 of the most common types found in New England.

Mr. Taylor is the faculty advisor for the Outing Club. He is assisted by Mr. Staples and Mr. Darrin. They report that, "Plans are already under way to offer students a variety of interesting and exciting spring trips."

The Outdoor Education Program won't be completely inactive. A tour of French Canada (Montreal and Quebec City) has been planned for February school vacation. This four-day and three-night trip is open to all students at West Junior High School and will feature a walking tour of the walled city of Old Quebec and a guided tour of Vieux Montreal; educational visits to the Provincial Parliament and Montreal's Olympic site; outstanding meals including all-you-can-eat buffet breakfasts and dinner shows featuring French cuisine. Luxury accommodations have been arranged in downtown hotels with heated indoor swimming pools. Evening activities include inner tube tobogganing at Village des Sportes and roller skating at La Roulatheque, a French roller disco. Ample time will be provided for shopping and browsing at Monteal's underground mall and the Place Laurier in Quebec City. Sign-ups are being taken for this exciting "French Canadian Winter Carnival."

Andover High Notes

Christmas is a time of loving and caring. It is a season of giving. Andover High School students and teachers exemplified these ideals by helping needy families in the Merrimack Valley experience a more enjoyable holiday.

The student body and faculty raised more than $1,300 for the Andover High Santa Fund. The money was used to purchase clothing and toys for the 16 people from three local, underprivileged families Andover High sponsored.

The Santa Fund was organized by the student government under the direction of senior senator Chris Scanlon. The high school community donated the money over a three-day period, December 17-19, during mid-day homeroom. A container was left at the snack bar for people to contribute their loose change.

Making the Santa Fund a success required much behind-the-scenes work over Christmas vacation. Student government advisor, Mike Marcoux, faculty members Patty Barrett, Linda Saalfrank and Ann Wilde and students Chris Abel, Laura Cervone, Brian Cronin, Billy Dalton, Cathy Dehm, Mike Dimeo, Margaret Easton, Connie Graham, Laurie Habeeb, Pam Kostka, Mark Marmer, Dave Pouliot, Peter Quintal, Bill Scanlon and Chris Scanlon put in long hours to make the Santa Fund work.

The group visited the families to gain an insight as to what the individuals needed the most and to find out clothing sizes.

Those working on the project went on a shopping spree on Sunday, Dec. 22, and Monday, Dec. 23, buying mostly clothing and a few toys. They worked long into Monday night wrapping and labeling the presents.

Tuesday was delivery day. The faces of the needy families smiled and their eyes lit up when the Andover crew arrived with bags of gifts. They were very thankful and invited the Andover group inside their homes for refrreshments. Fhe father of one of the families exclaimed gratefully, "God bless all of you and your families."

Andover High School discovered first hand what the Christmas spirit is all about.

When the light's right, a mountain in Iceland can be seen from islands off Scotland, 340 miles away.

Phillips Symposium Opens With Poster Exhibit And Chekhov Film

The 1986 Headmaster's Symposium, "The Soviet Union: Beyond Stereotypes, Toward Understanding," begins with the opening on Friday, Jan. 17, at 7 p.m. of a special exhibit at the Addison Gallery entitled "Art for the Masses: Russian Revolutinary Art" from the Merrill C. Berman collection. The exhibit features works by 30 artists active in the decade folowing the 1917 Revolution and will focus on the large-scale poster tracing the various styles which contributed to the unique fusion of avant-garde art and politics that occurred in the USSR at the time. The exhibit continues through March 2.

The Soviet film series will open on Sunday, Jan. 19, in Kemper Auditoriuma at 6 p.m. with "The Lady with the Dog," a 1960 black-and-white film directed by Josef Heifitz and acclaimed as one of the few films ever to capture the essence of Chekhov. The plot centers on Dmitri Gurov, a middle-age bank official on vacation in Yalta, and his encounters with Anna, a young woman who walks her dog daily along the promenade. The public is invited at no charge.

Following the faculty's study trip to the USSR last summer, the Headmaster's Symposium is designed to offer a realistic view of Soviet culture offering speakers, films, exhibits and discussions. Although these events will take place primarily during April and May, upcoming "presymposium" activities include a lecture By Craig Whitney, Phillips Academy alumnus and assistant managing editor of the New York Times, on Wednesday, Jan. 22, on "Will the Soviet Union Survive to the Year 2000?"; Oberlin College professor Vladimir Frumkin will talk on "Soviety Unofficial Music" on January 29; and a discussion by Soviet emigre fiction writer Vassily Aksyonov on February 9. A full schedule of events is available through the office of public information at Phillips Academy.

Women, Child Support & Divorce

If you are separated from your husband you may feel bound to accept your husband's determination of what is a reasonable figure for weekly child support payments, either because you are afraid he may fight you for custody if you do not accept, or because you feel a Court will not award you any more than he is offering anyway. Before you agree to something which is inadequate for your needs and your children's, you should contact an attorney who can advise you relative to your rights, your responsibilites and the standards a Court is likely to apply.

Andover will elect 16 delegates and two alternates equally divided between men and women. John D' O'Brien, Andover Democratic town committee chairman, will call the caucus at Andover High School. The caucus is open to all registered Democrats, persons ineligible to register and media representatives. The only persons eligible to particpate in any portion of the caucus are those who are registered Democrats in the ward or town as of December 30, 1985. There will be no absentee or proxy voting.

Candidates for delegate and alternate must be present and give his or her written consent to be nominated and that nomination must be seconded by two persons present.

All ballots will be written and secret. Those candidates receiving the greatest number of votes on the first ballot will be elected.

Each candidate will be allowed to make a two-minute speech and to distribute one sheet of paper listing qualifications and ideas.

Slate-making is allowed, but no special preference shall be given to slates. There is no quorum requirement for the caucus.

One out of every ten people eats breakfast out.

Named Law Firm Officer

Richard J. Santagati, former president and chairman of NYNEX Business Information Systems, a NYNEX Corporation (NYSE:NYNEX) company, will join the national law firm of Gaston Snow & Ely Bartlett, effective immediately, it has been announced by Austin Broadhurst, the firm's managing partner.

Santagati's responsibilities will include participation in planning and organization of legal services and management of all business aspects of the firm. He will be a member of Gaston Snow's executive committee.

"We are delighted to have someone of Mr. Santagati's caliber, background and reputation join our firm. As Gaston Snow & Ely Bartlett has increased in size and geographical scope, we have found it essential to recognize that the practice of law by a large law firm has significant business aspects. We must be able to continue to deliver legal services of high quality both economically and efficiently. It is, therefore, critical that we have an executive with Mr. Santagati's management and marketing expertise as we make both our short-term plans and future decisions," said Broadhurst.

Gaston Snow & Ely Bartlett, the largest law firm headquartered in Boston, has been a leader in addressing the problems major law firms face today in maintaining professional services at the cutting edge, while dealing with the realities of the marketplace. This is reflected in the fact that Gaston Snow is one of the first major law firms in the country to engage a chief operating officer.

"I view this as a significant opportunity to work with an outstanding group of professionals. I feel strongly that professonalism and efficiency go hand-in-hand in improving client services. My background in operations, organizational structure, marketing and planning shoudl be valuable both in taking responsibility for the business operation of the firm and in the development of a long-range plan that takes maximum advantage of the unique strengths and skills of Gaston Snow," said Santagati.

Santagati was responsible for the development of many unregulated lines of business and the sale of regulated and unregulated products for NYNEX Corporation. He directed the rapid expansion of NYNEX Business Information Systems into a leading provider of communication and information products and services.

Santagati was an elected officer of New England Telephone where he held a variety of executive-level positions in sales, marketing and operations, including vice president of marketing and assistant vice president of sales.

He was responsible for marketing planning activites related to the divestitute of the Bell System in 1982. He was also responsible for planning and implementation of the Federal Communications Commission's Computer Inquiry II Order, which allowed NYNEX Corporation to enter the customer premises equipment and computer markets.

Santagati holds a master's degree from the Sloan School of Management, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a bachelor degree from Merrimack College. He returned to Merrimack to teach "The Process of Management" at its School of Continuing Education. Santagati is a member of the Sloan School Board of Governors and of the Greater Boston Executive Club and the American Management Association. He was the commencement speaker at the State University of New York's Utica/Rome campus in May 1985.

A native of Massachusetts, Santagati now resides in Andover with his wife, Marilyn, and their three children.

Gaston Snow & Ely Bartlett dates back to 1844. It has grown to be one of the country's largest law firms with 240 attorneys and offices in six cities: Boston, New York, Palo Alto, San Francisco, Phoenix and Coral Gables, Fla. The firm provides a broad range of legal services, particularly in the areas of financial services, high technology, venture capital, securities, real estate, tax and tax-advantaged investments, public/private finance, mergers and acquisitions, banking, health care and bankruptcy.

Combined Services To Mark Church Anniversaries

Christ Church and South Church, which represent more than 400 years of worship in Andover, will have a combined service in observance of their respective anniversaries Sunday at 4 p.m.

The service will start at South Church, which began its 275th anniversary celebration last week, and worshippers will proceed by candlelight across School Street at Central to Christ Church, which has been celebrating its Sesquicentennial since last fall.

The Rev. Westy Egmont will conduct the service at South Church in the "Old Congregational" form. David Penner will lead the Psalter reading and combined choirs from the two churches will sing the Introit. After the procession to Christ Church, the Rev. James Diamond will preside over a traditional Episcopal Communion Service. A reception will folow.

The neighborly spirit of the two churches dates back to the early 1800s when an English immigrant couple moved to Andover. Mary Marland joined South Church, which had been the only religious institution in town since 1711. Her husband, Abraham, attended with her, but never joined, remaining true to his Church of England upbringing and a promise he made when he left Liverpool in 1801, to "plant my mother's church somewhere in America if I prosper." (Prosper he did, founding the famous Marland Manufacturing Co. in 1834.)

Marland and fellow Episcopalians were allowed to gather for worship at South Church beginning in 1833 and, on August 6, 1835, the Episcopal Society of Andover met to appoint its first wardens and vestry (Mr. Marland was one of the original wardens).

This new parish preached a doctrine and practiced a liturgy with which the long-established Congregationalism of Andover was not in sympathy. Yet, it is found in Christ Church's archives that at Christmas 1835, "Our good friends across the road not only offered the use of the church...but at a time when even a Christmas tree was an abomination to most Andovedrians, they allowed Bishop Griswold to conduct the service among Christmas lights and Christmas decorations according to our beloved ritual."

During 1837 and 1838, according to South Church records, 14 members were dismissed to become communicants of Christ Church.

The public is welcome at Sunday afternoon's service.

Preaching Series To Begin

The congregation of the Ballard Vale United Church (a United Methodist and United Church of Christ congregation) worships this Sunday in a Service of the Word at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, pastor, begins a four-week Epiphany preaching series based on the gifts of the Spirit in Paul's letter to the Corinthians. His message for this Sunday is "Gifts of the Spirit."

There is a church school class for adults at 9:30 a.m. and for children at 10:30 a.m. There will be a time for fellowship and light refreshments following the service.

King Worship Service Monday

An ecumenical worship service observing the new national holiday to honor slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., will be held at noon on Monday, Jan. 20, at Christ Church, Central Street, Andover.

The service has been planned by Rev. Rosemarie Smurzynski of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, Fr. Bill Mullin of St. Robert's Church in West Andover and Rev. Andrew Hammersley of Christ Church.

A major address is planned by June Gonzales, a Lowell attorney who is president of the Merrimack Valley NAACP. She will speak on institutional racism as evidenced by continuing problems in housing, education and employment for people of color.

State Senator Gerald Damico of Worchester will examine responses to these problems at the state-wide level.

A luncheon will be provided by all the Andover churches and temples following the worship service.

Temple To Mark King Birthday

In recognition of the newest national holiday, Martin Luther King Day, Temple Emanuel, Haggetts Pond Road, Andover, will mark the event with a Service of Recognition Friday, Jan. 17, at 8:15 p.m. Many rabbis and congregations have chosen to follow the suggestion of the American Jewish Heritage Committee, which has designated this Sabbath to remember the birthday of this great human rights leader. The legacy of brotherhood which Martin Luther King left is still far from the goals it envisioned, but his life continues to remind all of the need to attain justice and equality for all. The role he played is indelibly engraved in the annals of American history. His dream of justice, equality and brotherhood, when it becomes a reality for all, will affirm a common humanity.

Rabbi Roth's sermon will be based on the Scriptural text in the Book of Exodus, Chapter 10, Verses 22-23. This Biblical section is from the Bible portion assigned as the Scriptural reading for this Sabbath.

A commentary to these verses speaks of the ninth plague which was visited upon the Egyptians, the plague of darkness, as more than simple "darkness." The tragedy was not in the darkness, but rather that the people refused to see the distress of others. People chose to ignore the plight of those enslaved and in so doing, refused to help them overcome their suffering. Those who could have helped chose not to see. They preferred to close their eyes, and in not seeing, felt no obligation to help. The parable between the biblical story and today's world is still most troublesome.

Study Series At Temple

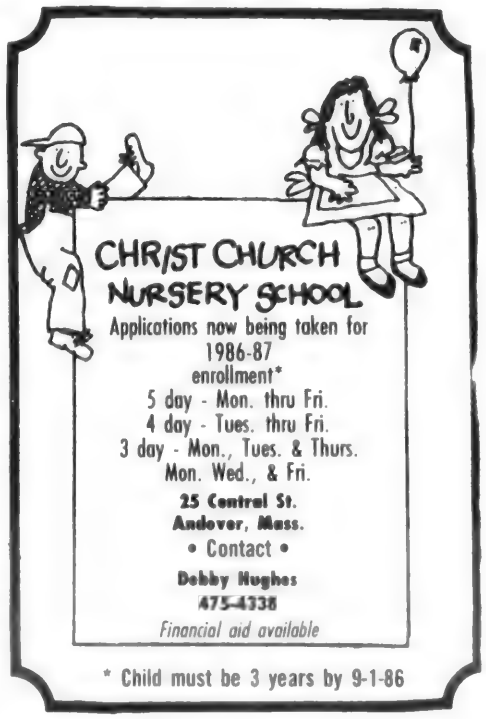

Temple Emanuel of Andover, 7 Haggetts Pond Road, announces the start of another of its adult study series for Sunday, Jan. 19, at 10 a.m. at the temple. A continental breakfast will precede the lecture.

Dr. Jay Y. Brodbar-Nemzer, a well known sociologist and professor at Brandeis University, will be the guest speaker in what will be an ongoing study program dealing with Jewish life-cycle events. His topic will be "The Contemporary American Jewish Family and the Future: Will Our Grandchildren be Jewish?", a subject about which he has written extensively as a result of his research studies.

The program is presented jointly by the temple's Brotherhood and the Adult Education Committee in cooperation with the Andover Chapter of B'nai B'rith. All members of the community are invited.

Admission includes the continental breakfast at 10 a.m

For additional information or reservations call the temple office.

Puppets

The Puppet Workshop will present a musical and modern adaptation of "Jack and the Beanstalk" on Sunday, Feb. 2, at 2 p.m. at Kemper Theater, Bradford Junior College, Route 125, Bradford.

Jack is pushed around by punks at school and misunderstood at home. "Magic beans" seem better than gold to Jack when he is forced to sell the family horse, and when the beans produce a giant beanstalk that reaches the clouds, it is just the escape route he's looking for. Jack soon discovers that problems abound in fantasy-land. As he faces bullies and a boy-eating ogre and his oppressed wife, Jack discovers himself and the solutions to his real-world problems below.

Outdoor Expo

The Raptor Education Foundation from Denver, Colo., will present an educational display featuring a bald eagle, a golden eagle, a peregrine falcon and a barn owl at the Eastern Fishing and Outdoor Exposition at the Centrum in Worcester, January 29-february 2. Raptor is the scientific term for the class of birds that includes eagles, hawks and owls. Expo visitors will be able to see the live birds and talk with experts on the subject.

Birds of prey have always fascinated mankind and been revered as gods, symbols of power and providers of food. The American Indian warrior's eagle feather was his Bronze Star and his right to wear his collection of them in a head dress his Medal of Honor.

The chemical that gives the skunk his dreaded smell is called ethanethiol; this substance is so pungent that one ten-trillionth of an ounce can be detected by the human nose.

A mature porcupine has over 30,000 quills.

To Present Luboff Choir

The world-renowned Norman Luboff Choir will appear at South Church, Andover, at 5 p.m. on February 9 as part of the church's continuing Performing Arts Series.

The 24-member choir is on a winter tour of northeastern United States and will be directed by its founder, singer-composer-arranger Norman Luboff.

The choir is popular because of its artistic range, versatility and precision. They sing everything from Bach chorales and the joyous music of Mozart, to folk songs of every mood and nationality, spirituals, gospel songs and Beatles' tunes.

Luboff began his career as a singer and arranger in New York in the days when symphony orchestras, dance bands and choruses performed live on radio. He moved to Hollywood as choral director of "The Railroad Hour," a weekly program of operetta and musical comedy starring Gordon MacRae, and subsequently arranged and composed for many TV programs and more than 80 motion pictures. He recorded with such artists as Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, Jo Stafford, Doris Day, Frankie Laine and Ezio Pinza.

The Luboff Choir began as a recording group in New York when Luboff was writing for television and motion pictures. They have been on concert tours every year since 1963 and have recorded more than 75 LP records.

Advance tickets are available at Mission Trader's, 73 Florence St.; Thompson's Office Supply, 45 Main St.; Liggett's Drug Store, Shawsheen Plaza; and at the church office, 41 Central St., Andover.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

Large, "L" shaped kitchens should try to incorporate design features that will make the most of their generous space. One such idea is to build a cook-top work island. This handsome feature will reduce the distances between the kitchen's three primary work areas. The island could serve as an informal eating area by expanding the counter-space and adding stools. An attractive overhead, oval shaped rack could be used to display and store, an island can transform dead floor space into a cozy eating and cooking area.

Whether you want a traditional kitchen or more modern one, let the staff at WINDSOR KITCHENS help you select the cabinets that will provide the maximum amount of storage. We feature beautiful cabinets for any room in the house, not just kitchens. As a result we know all about cabinets and which types are suited for every area. Our cabinets are of the finest woods which means durability and long lasting beauty. See us at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill for all your cabinet needs. Mon-Thurs. 9-5:30; Fri. til 8; Sat. til 2. Tel. 372-3444.

HANDY HINT:

There never can be too much cabinet space in a kitchen.

Education Grant Awarded

Gov. Michael S. Dukakis and Secretary of Economic Affairs Joseph D. Alviani have announced the awarding of a $187,008 education and job training grant to the Department of Training and Manpower Development. The grant will be used to provide adult basic education, high school equivalency diploma (GED) preparation and pre-employment skills training to low-income adults and high school drop-outs in the Greater Lawrence area.

The grants are funded under the federal Job Training Partnership Act and provide special funds for development of job training programs which include a strong local education component. The program is one of ten programs in Massachusetts receiving funding through the Massachusetts Office of Training and Employment Policy. The ten programs are expected to serve 2,000 people across the Commonwealth. Each grant will be equally matched by private sector contributions.

"These programs will help those people in Massachusetts who are most in need of training—high-school drop-outs, welfare recipients and citizens lacking basic literacy skills. By providing a direct link between education and job training we are able to provide people with the skills that lead to job opportunities and the skills they need to keep those jobs," Dukakis said.

Commenting on the local education and job training programs, Alvani said, "The strength of our economy is such that we must and can redouble our efforts to provide the critical education link to job training for all our citizens."

Correction

The 30.4 percent increase since 1981 referred to in last week's issue of the TOWNSMAN on School Bus Costs should have read a 30.4 percent increase in the teaching budget since 1981.

The regular day transportation budget increased 16.8 percent since 1981. For transportation, Andover per pupil cost versus the State budget is 35 percent below the state for regular day transportation, which includes special needs transportation and private school transportation.

The statement that there is a possibility of the installation of seat belts on school buses should have been attributed to state Rep. Philip Travis of the Special Commission on School Bus Seat Belts and not Gov. Dukakis.

A Mother's Confession

By Susan K. O'Neill

It was bound to happen some day.

Wasn't it?

I mean, what with all the comings and goings. Paul's night meetings, road trips, coaching this and that. My night meetings. Kim's constant music and drama performances. Kramer's sports. Why, even little Kelly takes tap-dancing and karate (a boy whose name is Kelly, and who takes tap-dancing lessons, has to study karate).

So many comings and goings. It's like South Station around here—minus the bag ladies, of course. We were bound to lose the grip on it somewhere along the line.

Weren't we? Well?

Okay, so I'm making excuses. You would, too. I mean, how do I explain forgetting to pick up my own kid from basketball practice?

That's right. Just leaving the little bugger off at eight o'clock at night at the Doherty gym—and forgetting to pick him up at 9:30.

Please understand. I did not intend to do it. Sure, maybe I've hinted that it might be convenient to lose one or another of them until, say, he or she turned 18. But I was only kidding. This was an accident.

Honest.

It was the kind of accident that could only have happened to Kramer. Kramer is my neglected middle child, the wheel that does not squeak. Unlike Kim or Kel, Kramer goes gently into just about any given dark night. Grumbling, perhaps—but never raging.

It is not Kramer's style to dig up a phone and call his parents when they are 15 minutes late. Kim would; she'd call after five minutes.

But not Kramer.

It is not Kramer's style to call when they're a half-hour late, and the only other living souls to be found at the Doherty gym are one night janitor and one tired but patient coach, the type of "together" guy who would never forget to pick up his own child from basketball practice in the dead of the night.

It is Kramer's style to stand out behind the gym, looking ten years old, and bounce his basketball in the puddle of light from the single bulb above the exit door. It is his style to answer, when his coach asks where his parents are—because practice ended a half-hour ago, and it's dark and late and spooky outside: "They haven't come yet."

At roughly the same time the coach bundled the kid into his car to take him home to his neglectful parents, those same parents were enjoying their quiet house. The kids were in bed. Everything was peaceful.

A little too peaceful.

And then the realization; the sudden insight into just why it was so terribly peaceful.

Ho, boy.

At roughly the same time that the coach showed up at the door with Kramer, Paul was stomping through Doherty gym, grilling the night janitor on the whereabouts of a lost 10-year-old. The poor night janitor—he was just sweeping the floor, not running a search for abandoned children.

Meanwhile, back at the house... There is, I found, nothing intelligent that you can say to a kid who walks through your door a half-hour late, after you've left him standing out in the cold, dark world, holding the bogeymen at bay with a basketball. I steeled myself to face Kramer. Go ahead, I thought. Scream at me. Cry. Tell me I'm an unfit mother. Guilty.

So guilty!

He shook the snow off his feet and fixed me with those big, innocent blue eyes of his. "Where's Dad?" he said. No tears; no rage. "I've been worried about you guys. I thought maybe something'd happened to you and you couldn't make it."

Gulp.

Parking Bylaw Guidelines To Be Defined By Zoning Board

By Lisa Waterman

The Zoning Board of Appeals will define the guidelines for parking regulations regarding some Park Street property.

Bibliomania Trust, 68 Park St., aggrieved by the decision made by the building inspector with regard to the number of parking spaces required by the Zoning Bylaw appeared before the board last Thursday evening.

Members of the trust, Rosalie Dodd, Howard Yezerski, David Rodger requested the number of parking spaces, 29 spaces, by the building inspector be changed to 25 spaces.

The building inspector Sam J. DeSalvo, arrived at required spaces from the new parking regulations that was instituted by town meeting.

"The new regulation doesn't give parking credits to businesses," DeSalvo said. "The old bylaw allowed for parking credits, within so many feet of a town-owned parking place."

Businesses would be allowed to take a percentage of that parking, for instance in the parking area behind the Old Town Hall and in the Old Andover Village and other town parking areas.

The new regulations, proposed by the Planning Board, does not give parking credits and if a business makes major alterations they must conform to the town bylaw and must provide parking. In cases of hardship, they can apply to the Planning Board for a special permit to utilize parking elsewhere, according to DeSalvo. If denied they can apply to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance.

The new bylaw measures gross floor area, the footprint of the building from outside wall to outside wall.

Bibliomania Trust wanted to have the two buildings that pre-existed to the bylaw subject to the old measurements and the newest building subject to the new bylaw.

"Businesses have to consider parking when they make major modifications. The bylaw was created by the Planning Board to make businesses begin to modify plans to include parking, when they are in the process of major alterations or new construction, DeSalvo said.

The board agreed to define the guidelines for the building inspector.

In other decisions: A tentative yes was granted to Ballardvale Company, Roy D. Umanzio and Christine Zander, 331 South Main St., for a special permit of Zoning-Bylaw to permit the conversion of a multi-family dwelling to a combined residential and business use. Premises affected are 174-176 Andover Street.

A tentative yes was granted to: Thomas O. Childs, 244 So. Main Street, for variance, to permit the construction of deck and bathroom at 73R River Street.

A tentative yes, was granted to, Randolph Nursing Home, Inc., 102 Burnham Road, and Frank Andreoli, for a special permit for the operation of a nursing home under new ownership.

Town Will Provide Transit To Private Schools In Fall

Andover will be providing school bus transportation to private school students in accordance with the Private School Transportation Law, beginning in the upcoming Fall semester.

The Private School Transportation law (Chap. 666) amends the Compulsory Attendence law and entitles all children who live two miles from the school they attend, to school bus transportation provided that they are legal residents of the town.

"This is a safety not educational issue," Francis L. Paul, Business Manager said. "Health and safety should be wealth-free. Because a student can afford the tuition of private school education, he should not be discriminated against in the provision of transportation that is provided to public school students."

The state has provided one and a half million dollars out of the 55 million dollar state transportation budget to institute the additional private school transportation.

Four additional buses and a request of $87,000 will be made in the transportation budget that will be presented to the School Committee for the next fiscal year. The state

Police Recovered $43,000 In Property Via 661 Arrests

By Lisa Waterman

The Andover Police Department made 661 arrests in 1985. Major arrests involved, over the past fifteen months, $43,000 of recovered stolen goods from Andover private citizens and merchants.

One of the first major arrests of '85 was made in January. An Andover man, who had been arrested four months prior to the arrest and who was then suspected of selling drugs out of his Stevens Street home, was again arrested on Wednesday, Jan. 16., in North Reading, and later in the week in Andover, this time for allegedly dealing in cocaine and marijuana in Reading and North Reading. Police were quick to credit neighbors in the arrest of Michael D. Roberts, 55 Stevens St., who was charged with possession with intent to distribute a class D substance, marijuana; possesion of a class B substance, cocaine; conspiracy to violate controlled substance laws.

Roberts "went into hiding" after the North Reading arrest, explained Andover Detective John Bernhardt, and police couldn't find him after they secured a warrant for his arrest. Because Andover and North Reading are in different District Court jurisdictions, Roberts was arrested twice by police from both towns.

Andover detectives Bernhardt and David Grant said that this second investigation was a result of information they received that Roberts was "in business again."

The arrests were what Grant said was a good example of neighborhood and police department cooperation. It was the neighbors who originally tipped the police off, that September, to Robert's dealings from his home. Detectives watched his home from the neighborhood that fall. Before the arrests both Grant and Det. Kevin Winters had been watching Roberts for about six weeks. Grant guessed the two men had put in some 140 hours on the Roberts' investigation.

As soon as Roberts was arrested in North Reading, his home was secured by the Andover Police detectives. The police had heard evidence that the home might be destroyed following the arrest. The telephone kept Bernhardt and Hastings busy while they searched Roberts' home, said Bernhardt who guessed he took about 20 calls from persons wanting to purchase cocaine in one and a half hours. The callers gave only their first names, said Bernhardt, and called to buy half-ounces of cocaine, which the detective said sometimes sells for $800.

Word traveled back to Andover fast as Bernhadt answered one call where the caller to the Stevens Street house said that Roberts had been arrested in North Reading and warned those in the house to leave. Also arrested that day was Frank Fedele, 23, 55 Stevens St., who, Bernhardt said, showed up at Roberts' home at approximately 9:15 p.m., carrying 31 grams of cocaine with a street value of between $5,000 and $10,000. Andover Police charged Fedele with major trafficking of cocaine, which carries a three-year mandatory jail sentence; possession of cocaine with intent to distribute, possession of marijuana and conspiracy to violate drug laws.

In October, a five-week probe, under the direction of Det. Sgt. John Houlihan from the Andover Police Department and four other detectives, resulted in five arrests and a warrant for a man who was charged in connection with breaking and entering and larceny in Andover and one other warrant pending, making a total of eight arrests.

The arrests may curb the flow of housebreaks, business breaks and larcenies, that have been committed by a gang of alleged addicts residing in scattered areas of Lawrence, Det. David

Andover Companies To Move Operations To West Andover

By Susan K. O'Neill

Andover's oldest existing insurance group has bought land in West Andover for a new national home office.

The Andover Companies, a group of three insurance companies whose roots date back to 1828, purchased a 27-acre Old River Road parcel from GCA Corporation on Dec. 16, 1985, and plans to build a corporate headquarters on the property within three years.

Spokesmen from the GCA Corporation indicate that The Andover Companies paid $4.4 million for the land. According to Warren Davidson of GCA's public relations department, the site is one of two Andover parcels recently sold by the company, which specializes in the production of semi-conductors for the computer industry, to obtain capital against last year's financial losses.

The Andover Companies a group consisting of Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Cambridge Mutual Insurance and the Bay State Insurance Company handles property insurance accounts in 22 states from its Andover base. According to Vice President/Controller Russell Bishop, the organization has outgrown its present quarters at 305 N. Main St. "We will be building a new building, which will have 80,000 square feet of first-class office space," he said.

The eventual move will be the group's fourth in its 158-year history. It will be its first move into a new, custom-designed building.

The Andover Companies began in 1828 as Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance. It was formed by several Andover property owners, after they had tried in vain for years to persuade the town to purchase fire equipment. Merrimack Mutual's board of directors who were also its first agents met for the company's first 12 years at the former Locke Tavern, located at 111 Main Street.

In 1840, the growing company rented space over the Andover National Bank at 23 Main Street. That brick building now houses the Andover office of Bay Bank-/Merrimack Valley.

After the turn of the century, Merrimack Mutual acquired Cambridge Mutual Insurance (1913) and expanded its reach beyond New England. In 1933, it purchased and moved into the Post Office building in Shawsheen Village, the "planned village" built by William Wood in the early 1920s to house executives for his American Woolen Company. That building, a triangular landmark which stands at the corner of Main Street and Route 133, now houses the Lawrence Savings Bank.

The Andover Companies bought its present quarters, the old Balmoral Spa which once housed Shawsheen Village's drug store, barber shop, hairdresser, dance hall and many of its recreational facilities in 1951. In 1955, the group incorporated a third company, Bay State Insurance. Since that time, it has built two additions onto the Spa to accommodate the growth of its staff.

Russell Bishop predicts that his company will move to its new location within two or three years. The future of the insurance group's Shawsheen headquarters is uncertain at this point. "We're so early in our planning stages that we don't know exactly what the disposition of our present building will be," said Bishop.

GCA Sells Adjacent Property In Andover

On Jan. 10, the GCA Corporation sold a parcel of land adjacent to its Shattuck Road facilities to the development firm of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes. According to a spokesman for the that Boston-based company, the land will probably be used as a site for two- and three-story office buildings.

"The intent is to build the kind of buildings that are in keeping with what's on the road now," said Peter Forrester, a vice president with Cabot, Cabot & Forbes. He indicated that, because the purchase was so recently made, his company will not be submitting preliminary plans for any development for three to four months.

According to GCA sources, the development company purchased the 24-acre parcel for $5.76 million. The site is the company's second Shattuck Road acquisition; about six months ago, it purchased the former Infinet property, located across the street from the newly-obtained parcel.

Forrester said that his company has wanted to purchase land in Andover for a number of years. After buying the Infinet property, he said, Cabot, Cabot & Forbes "cleaned it and scrubbed it up a bit" and put it on the rental market. As of now, no one has leased it. "It's a very soft market right now," he said, "but we're sure that, in time, someone will be interested in leasing the space."

Raising Pennies to Dress the Lady

What started out to be a goal to raise 150 pounds of pennies by the student body of the West Junior High, became a dedicated drive that ended with a half a tone of pennies, all collected in one week, for the restoration of the Statue of Liberty. This patriotic task was given to West Junior High and other schools in the Merrimack Valley area by the Telephone Pioneers of America, a volunteer organization consisting of 600,000 members from the U.S. and Canada who have been long-time employees for the telephone company. The pioneers three year goal to raise money, from a variety of fund raising events to "Dress the Lady" is near completion with a sum of two million dollars already collected and still increasing. The West Junior High administrators and faculty held a Statue of Liberty Assembly with invited school administrators and representatives from the Telephone Pioneers, to thank the students for a successful collection amounting to over $2,000 and to present over 40 sacks containing the pennies to Connie Connors, Telephone Pioneer Partner co-ordinator for the New England Area. The restoration of the statue is to be completed for an unveiling on July 4. Photos clockwise from upper left: West student takes careful steps as he helps to bring out the sacks on stage containing the pennies; Connie Connors reads a thank you plaque to the audience as Student Goverment President Katie O'Sullivan looks on; Garret Moss, Jennifer Chunias, Kristin Burtt and Eric Hawn take turns reading the story about Lady Liberty; Master of ceremonies and student goverment sponsor, John Darrin addresses the audience; Katie O'Sullivan and Connie Connors on stage with the sacks of pennies; Principal William Hart at the podium; Dave Camire, of the Arlington Trust Bank begins the job of counting the pennies by machine while student government officers, Lindsay McCracken, Tom DeBenedictis, Toti Ezpeleta and Meg McConville look on.

Parking - - Is It A Problem?

There is an age-old matter which rears its ugly head every so often in the downtown area, namely parking.

Now, with additional off-street parking areas provided, one must ask the question of whether or not there is a parking problem, at least for those who require such facilities for the proper conduct of business in the central business district.

Somewhere along the line there is to be a thorough study of the town's parking problems with, no doubt, some recommendations concerning their resolution.

It is suggested that the principal matter to be addressed is the needs of the office workers, employees and commuters.

As far as shoppers and those visiting professional offices in the downtown area, it would appear that the current number of parking spaces available seems sufficient.

Between the municipal parking lot off Main Street and the new lot between Park, Barnard and Bartlet streets, there is ample, metered parking available to the casual downtown visitor. Sufficient time at a reasonable cost is provided in these lots.

On any given day, even during busy weekend periods, empty parking spaces can be found in these lots.

The same is true of the unmetered parking areas throughout the business district, with the possible exception of Saturday mornings.

Banks, which attract considerable business during the weekend, provide sufficient parking for customers. No doubt, some customers will do other errands and leave their cars in the bank lot, but this hardly presents major problems, as a matter of fact helps the downtown parking situation.

What seems to be needed is an examination about what to do about those employed in the downtown area and those who commute to and from Boston daily and leave their cars in the downtown area.

While metered, and in some cases unmetered spaces go begging, side streets are filled and in some cases plugged with automobiles lined on both sides of the street.

This is particularly true on the upper end of Park Street, where, on occasion it is problematical that emergency equipment could make safe passage as is required.

Other side streets present similar problems.

There had been some talk in recent months about the possibility of putting a parking garage within the Main Street municipal lot. But, to date it has been only talk.

There was also suggestion of obtaining additional spaces through acquisition of some Elm Street property, but there has been no movement in that direction.

No doubt, all of these suggestions are awaiting a decision on whether to have a consultant examine Andover's parking problems or appoint a local study committee.

Whatever the situation, it would seem the time is proper to take some sort of action.

The problems presented by the all-day parker, which would appear to be at the base of the town's problems, will only intensify as time passes.

Therefore, it behooves Andover administrators and planners to initiate positive action in examining this issue.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — January 1911

Owing to the prevalence of Scarlet fever in town, the John Dove, Bradlee and West Center Schools were fumigated this week.

Several local apple growers have contributed barrels of apples to a carload of fruit which is to be shipped to Europe.

Among books recently added to Memorial Hall library, is one by Hoffman entitled "Mark Enderby, Engineer," and illustrated by William Harden Foster of this town.

Franklin H. Stacey, the local druggist, has several sprays of pussy willows in the window of his store. With pussy willows and hurdy-gurdies here, spring cannot be far behind.

Saturday evening's public event for this week will be of a less strenuous nature than hitherto. The young men's first basketball team are to give a "snowflake dance." Music will be provided by the Phillips Academy orchestra. As each guest meets the matrons, they will learn from the slips handed them their future residence, occupation and affinity. Candy, snowballs and punch from snowbanks will be served.

50 Years Ago — January 1936

The winter's most severe snowstorm struck Andover last Saturday and Sunday, with a total of 16 and 3-4 inches falling, 3 and 3-4 inches on Saturday and 13 on Sunday. Workers have been busy removing the snow all week and it is expected that tonight the work will be complete. The storm cost the town $5,945 up to last night and today's cleaning-up will put the cost well above the $6,000 mark.

Damage estimated at about $1,000 was caused by the snow Sunday, when a section of the Merrimack Card Clothing Company on Buxton Court, fell under the weight of the snow.

The Andover Chapter of the Red Cross is sponsoring, under the direction of the national committee of the American Red Cross, a First Aid Station to be located at the Central Fire Station on Park Street. This activity is Andover's part in the plan of the American Red Cross to establish a nationwide series of First Aid Stations along well travelled highways, to the end that, persons injured in automobile or other accidents may be delt with promptly and properly in an effort to reduce mortality.

A combination grader, scarifier and snow plow was used in last Sunday's storm here for the first time. The local Board of Public Works is giving the machine a tryout here this winter.

Work on the new junior high school project was underway again Wednesday morning after a lay-off of three to four days caused a strike called by union men last Friday morning. The dispute arose over the employment of the sub-contractors handling the roofing insulation work of two non-union men.

Report To Andover

By Rep. Sue Tucker

A Report On '85 Session

Questions And Answers On The 1985 Legislative Session

Q. Of the 8,000 bills filed last year, how many were actually signed into law?

A. Approximately 800 bills made it through the entire process and were signed into law by the Governor.

Q. How will these 800 new laws affect Andover citizens?

A. Ninety percent of these new laws are local petitions or technical corrections in the law which have no impact on the lives of most citizens. For example, Chapter 372 allows the town of Ludlow to send out estimated tax bills, while Chapter 219 deals with turkey hunting season at Mt. Graylock reservation.

Q What significant legislation passed this year?

A. Several very important issues were addressed in 1985. Among the most significant:

1. The Education Reform Bill.
2. Repeal of the 7½ percent surtax on Massachusetts income tax.
3. The Seatbelt Law.
4. A funding package for both road/bridge repair and jail expansion programs.
5. Reform of the Workers' Compensation system.
6. Acid rain reduction program to control in-state sulfur dioxide emissions.

Two other bills which had considerable interest among Andover residents passed this session: one allows videotaping of testimony from child victims of sexual abuse and the other imposes strict guidelines and penalties for hazing activities at colleges.

Q. What important bills died in 1985?

A. The legislature failed to deal with many issues, most of which will resurface as priorities in the 1986 session:

1. Uniform prison sentencing.
2. A bill to deal with rising medical malpractice insurance rates.
3. The "living will" which allows people to decide if they want life support systems disconnected if they become terminally ill.
4. A proposal to reduce the $11 billion pension liability.
5. A bill to change the way child support payments are administered and enforced.

Q. Why do so many important bills die every year?

A. The most common reason for the Legislature's failure to address an important issue is that time runs out before agreement can be reached among interested constituencies and legislators. For example, the Workers' Compensation issue was "deadlocked" between AIM (Associated Industries of Mass.) and the AFL-CIO for three years.

A few days after these groups reached agreement on how to change the Workers' Com-

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

The senior center will be closed Monday, Jan. 20, in honor of Martin Luther King's birthday.

Dicke Delery's Friday morning Dancerama has been cancelled until further notice.

Next Tuesday afternoon, Pat McGovern, in conjuction with the state Department of Revenue, will conduct a seminar on income and estate taxes at 12:30 p.m. Speakers will include Karen Gibeau, principal tax examiner, and Frank Scharaffa, chief tax counsel for the Department of Revenue. There will also be a question-and-answer period, so come prepared. This is your opportunity to get straight information on a very confusing subject. To ease the pain of tax discussion, there will be refreshments afterward. That's Tuesday, Jan. 21, from 12:30 p.m. to 2 p.m.

Now is the time to sign up for the up-coming classes at the center. Consult the center's newsletter and the community services bulletin for listings and then hurry down to sign up for your choice. But, don't wait 'til the last minute. The class you want may have filled by then, so do it now. Most classes start the week of January 27, but Kay Marsan's tap dancing will not begin until February 3. The class will last for ten weeks and cost $10. It is held from 11 a.m. 'til noon each Monday.

Been hearing a lot about Halley's Comet lately? Be in the know! Sign up for the trip to the Science Museum February 26 and a session in the Hayden Planetarium. You'll have time to browse through the museum before taking off for a buffet luncheon at Anton's in Cambridge. All for only $16.

There is still room on February 6 when a group will travel to the Colonial in Lynnfield for luncheon and entertainment. Sign up now for this special "Winter Break," an opportunity to shed the winter blues.

David Birnbach of the Andover School Committee will be at the center Tuesday, Jan. 28, to talk about "What's New in our Schools?" from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. Plan to come. Learn where your tax money is going. Learn what your grandchildren are doing in our schools. Be an informed citizen.

SHINE (Serving Health Information Needs of Elders) will have counselors at the center every Monday and Tuesday from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. to help you decipher your benefits, make out claims for both Medicare and private health insurance and assist in understanding the new HMOs.

The next mini-clinic will be at the Andover Commons Tuesday, Jan. 21. Call the health department for an appointment. Starting the first Tuesday in February, a health ed. program will be held at the center in place of the first Tuesday clinic. Other clinics will continue in other places each subsequent Tuesday, but the first Tuesday at the center will be the education program.

Down The Years

25 Years Ago — January 1961

The School Committee is scheduled to meet in special session tonight, to consider plans for the development of the High School area for athletics. School Board Member Robert McIntyre who, with Donald D. Dunn and Supt. of Schools Edward I. Erickson, have been studying the problem since last Spring, have felt that some workable plan can be presented to the town meeting for part of the area.

An imaginative plan to create a storage area for an additional 70 million gallons of water at Haggett's Pond, at no cost, has won approval of the Selectmen. Water Superintendent Donald Bassett explained to the Board how gravel can be removed from the rear of the pond area, and from under the water at some points, thus increasing the storage capacity of the pond itself.

The new "March of Dimes" will be held in January, with the traditional "Mothers March" coming Jan. 26.

Bannister Road-a street in Ballardvale that has been the subject of much controversy-has been designated a public way by special counsel for the town.

The Land Acquistion Committee has received favorable response from the Board of Selectmen following a request to purchase land at Pomp's Pond from the Boy Scouts of America, to buy the land and buildings at the pond for $15,000.

The appointment of Bernard D. Shea of Andover, as director of development at Bradford Junior College was announced by the Board of Trustees at the college.

10 Years Ago — January 1976

Attorney Andrew F. Shea III, president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce, told the board of directors last week that it is important for them to examine the proposed changes in the Zoning bylaws regarding industrial development, "very carefully."

Andover Selectmen are inviting representatives from the State Bureau of Solid Waste, MITRE Corp. to discuss a proposed $93 million regional Solid Waste plant.

A motion to dismiss charges brought by former Asst. Supt. of Schools Edward P. Regan against former School Committee Members John F. Lyons and John G. Wragg, was filed in U.S. District Court, Boston, Tuesday.

Fiscal 1976 is starting off gloomy, despite some assurance that the $10 tax rate increase contained in the initial municipal budget presentation by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin will be reduced by the time town meeting rolls around.

While the 1976 town election is just in the beginning stages, it is interesting to note that there are no candidates for school committee obtaining nomination papers from the town clerk's office as of midweek.

Police

Grant said at the time of the arrests.

"The gang had been committing a group of house robberies. Stolen checks from the homes would be cashed at area banks almost immediately following the robberies." Det. Kevin Winters said.

Area businesses were also being "scammed" by the group, according to Winters. Hardware stores, liquor stores, carpentry supply stores and other legitimate businesses would receive calls from an active account and then a man would arrive informing them he was from the store that called. He would then sign for the merchandise and load it in a car, according to Det. Grant. The business would not know that they had been robbed until they received the bill for the merchandise that they never ordered.

On Sunday, Sept. 29, during a routine motor vehicle stop, William E. Lucchesi, 32, 314 Market St., Lawrence and Kim M. Depris, 29, 135 Bowdoin St., Lawrence, were stopped for failure to keep right. Lucchesi and Depris were charged with possession of heroin and hypodermic needles. Lucchesi, was also arrested on a warrant from the Methuen Police Department. "The two were connected to a group of people we were interested in," according to Winters. On Monday, Sept. 30, Det. Sgt. Houlihan received information dealing with two incidents during the week of Sept. 24. regarding the theft of cases of liquor from Capital Liquors, 3 Railroad Avenue. The detectives received information that a theft was about to happen at the liquor distributors. Det. Grant and Winters went to Capital and observed Walter Wila, 25, 30 Jefferson St., Lawrence, loading his car with four cases of liquor. Wila was arrested and charged with larceny over $100. On Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 2 and Oct. 3., the Andover detectives received two warrants from Lawrence District Court. On Thursday, Oct. 3., Paul A. Sousa, 48, Lawrence Shelter, Lawrence, was arrested and on Friday, Oct. 4, Richard Mical, 34, 4 Sullivan Ave., Lawrence, was arrested on a warrant for larceny under false pretenses. Both were arrested in connection with the house and business robberies, according to Winters. Andover detectives stated at the time of the arrests that they believed the group to be responsible for a large

Warriors Pound Billerica

By Michael Muldoon

The Andover Golden Warrior basketball team overcame a slow start before cruising to a 71-58 victory over Merrimack Valley Conference foe Billerica. In the Friday night clash, Billerica rode the accurate downtown shooting of Tom Foley (14 first-half points) to a 30-24 halftime led.

Andover's early difficulties could be attributed to its limited intensity and inability to execute their offense. In addition, high scoring Tim Perry was held to four points before intermission.

Coach Tom Ryser fired up his troops for the second half. The Warriors lighted up the scoreboard in the third quarter for 28 points. Perry squashed his overmatched defensive counterpart for an amazing 17 points. In a key defensive move, Ryser put 6'4" Doug Rotondi on Tom Foley who frequently had to alter his shots so that his shooting percentage plummeted.

Seven Andover cagers scored in the final stanza as they stretched the eight-point lead to a comfortable 13 point cushion by game's end. Perry canned a 15-foot jumper with four minutes remaining to become the first Andover High School hoopster ever to crack the prestigious 1,000 point barrier for a career. With the victory, Andover upped its record to 6-1.

Perry had 31 points, Rotondi 12 points, 12 rebounds, Darren Currier, 8 points, John Klopacz 6, Chris Bartley 4 points, 6 assists, Mark Tucker 2 points.

LeMaitre Elected To All State Soccer Team

Ellen LeMaitre, an Andover senior at Phillips Academy, has been elected to the Massachusetts State Soccer Team for Independent Schools by the Massachusetts Association of Soccer Coaches. She is the daughter of Dr. George LeMaitre and Connie Weldon LeMaitre of Sunset Rock Road.

As co-captain of the girls' varsity soccer team this fall, LeMaitre led the 27-member team to a 17-0-1 season, culminating in the New England championship at the Independent School Invitational Tournament in November. As right inside forward, she headed a team which conquered St. Mark's School (2-1), Holderness Academy (3-) and Phillips Exeter Academy (2-). LeMaitre contributed four of the seven goals scored during the tournament and the girls were named champions for the fourth time in five seasons.

Other Andover students on the undefeated Phillips girls' soccer team included seniors, Laurie MacDonald of Farwood Drive, Kathryn Murphy of Punchard Avenue and Karen Pike of Lovejoy Road and two 11th graders, Caroline Pool of Salem Street and Vered Pomerantz of Bateson Drive.

LeMaitre plays as a right inner on the first Massachusetts State Soccer Team for Independent Schools. Formed last year by the coaches' association, the team represents an attempt to recognize outstanding players from independent schools as players from regional state high schools have been recognized for many years. LeMaitre's team co-captain, Jennifer Wadsworth, a senior from New York, was also elected to the team as a center fullback.

Teammates elected Vered Pomerantz, a local Andover student, as one of two co-captains for the 1986-87 season.

Melissa Morris

Voted Best Team Player

Melissa Morris, a junior defender on the Macalester College soccer squad, has been voted best team player for the second straight year. The 1983 graduate of Phillips Academy in Andover also served as tri-captain for the Scots this season.

Morris, recognized for her inspirational style of play, helped Macalester finish the 1985 season with a 6-10-4 record. Desite playing the entire year with nagging knee injuries, Morris "improved her skills throughout the entire season," according to Scots' head coch Ken Andrews.

"She has a way of being very vocal and enthusiastic," he said. "I could always count on her to give 100 percent during every game and practice."

Morris was also honored as MVP and co-captain during her prep soccer career at Phillips Academy.

Morris, daughter of Michael and Mary Joan Morris of Andover, is studying history.

Baseball School Planned

Darwin, Goalies Challenge Hillies

Sean Darwin's hustle and super goaltending by Mike Murnane and Mike Daley stopped a strong Haverhill Pee Wee A team in its tracks for almost two periods this past weekend at Merrimack College. The Hillies finally managed to score late in the second frame and added a second in the third period. This same Haverhill team had blown Andover away 13-1 in a previous game.

Andover benefited from the services of several players called up for the weekend. Billy Owens, John Constantine, Jay Coburn, Mike Walsh, Greg Afarian and Daley contributed a lot of spirit and hustle in this total team effort.

Gary Bleszinski, Todd Allard, Chris Cashman and Jim Morris anchored a solid defense while Mike Ristuccia, Frank Morey, Donnie Fraser and Chris Pothier pressed on offense, but were stopped by a hot Haverhill goalie.

After a strong effort on Saturday, Andover let down on Sunday, losing to Haverhill 6-1. Darwin scored the only goal on a classic rink-length rush.

Midgets Soar

The Andover Midgets put on an awesome offensive performance as they completely dominated Salem to win 9-1. Offensive stars were John Gangi (3 goals and 2 assists), Tom Herling (2 goals and 2 assists), Chris Patten (2 goals and 1 assist), Jeff Kittleson (1 goal and 1 assist), Matt Alden (3 assists), Greg Kinsky (2 assists) and Bob Smith (1 goal). Rob Moody, Mike Moriarty, Dan Hegarty and Bob Smith were solid on defense. Tim Smith and Chris Hansberry split the goaltending duties.

Most school children can tell you two negatives make a positive, but few can name the man who first said so. It's said to have been John Lowth who first laid down that rule of grammar in 1762.

St. Robert's Still Unbeaten

By Jim Arnold

A Sean Croteau, sudden-death overtime basket enabled St. Robert's A to remain unbeaten in the Andover Church Basketball League's Junior Division.

Croteau's hoop prevented St. Augustine's A from capping a tremendous comeback bid and kept his squad tied for first place with St. Augustine's B and St. Augustine's C.

St. Robert's A, 22-20

St. Augustine's A entered this matchup winless, but squared off with undefeated St. Robert's in the season's most exciting contest.

James Perry carried St. Robert's in the opening half, netting 10 of his team's 12 integers. Tim Foley added the other hoop. St. A's kept within striking distance, however, on the strength of two Bryan Hussey scores, A Joe Shea bucket and a David Charland effort to make it 12-8 at half.

Hussey and Shea each converted twice in period three to give St. A's their one lead of the ballgame, while Perry provided the lone St. Robert's points.

Perry spearheaded an early fourth-period rally, tallying four digits, and Jon Iarribino added a score to give St. Robert's a 20-16 advantage with under a minute left.

That's when sharpshooter Charland knocked home two consecutive jump shots to boost St. A's into overtime.

The game entered an initial two-minute overtime, but neither team was able to convert, due in large part to defense displayed by Eric Burtt and Ryan Lisiak of St. A's and Tommy Tanin and Ricky Santigati of St. Robert's.

League rules dictate that further overtimes be sudden death. That suited Sean Croteau, who banked a jump shot from the righr side to win the game for St. Robert's.

Perry captured game-scoring honors with 16 points. Hussey had 8 for St. A's and Charland and Shea added 6 each.

St. Augustine's C, 26-11

SAC utilized a balanced scoring attack and fine defense to level South and remain at the top of the league ranking.

The opening stanza was a standoff. Rob Wyatt, Scott Gray and Tommy Clarke struck for single South buckets, while Todd Harris nailed two scores and Paul Allard accounted for one hoop to pace SAC.

Mike McCarthy sparked SAC in period two, netting six points. Teammate Sean Gauthier also scored, while T.J. Weston stuck the only South score.

Harris put the game away in period three. He canned four foul shots, a jumper and displayed fine ball handling to catalyze his club's 10-2 rally.

Harris led SAC with 10, McCarthy had 8, Allard 4, Paul Cassidy and Gauthier 2 each.

Wyatt finished with 5 for South, while Gray, Weston and Clarke scored once each. Joey Kelley turned in a fine floor game.

Temple B, 12-4

Andrew Male scored eight points and a stingy Temple B defense did not surrender a single field goal in a decisive win over Temple A.

Male canned a pair of hoops and teammate Joshua Mamer tallied to put the B team up 6-0 in period one. Ben Weiner of Temple A garnered the only point of the second stanza on a free throw, making it 6-1 at half.

Another Weiner charity toss and two Mike McGuire free throws cut the lead to 6-4 in period three before Jeff Forlizzi countered with a B bucket.

Male knocked home four markers early in quarter four to round out the scoring and the victory.

Scot Blumsack and Jeff Feinberg paced the vigorous defense while Jason Nicholson, Jonathan Weiner and Louis Capobianco highlighted the A team.

St. Robert's B, 36-8

St. Robert's rang up the season's highest point total with a thrashing of defending champion Ballardvale United. An 8-0 first-period run and a 16-4 third-stanza scoring spree left little in the way of drama in this contest.

Kenn Oppenheim led St. Robert's scoring with 10 markers, Tim McGovern and Ian Begg each had 6, Robert Derba and Erica Campbell had 4 apiece and Christine Donovan, Chris Kearn and Teddy Witman added solos. Matthew Talty prevented any calamities with heady defense.

Erin Sullivan collected a pair of scores for Ballardvale while Brent Campbell and Jennifer Msumba had once each. Mike Costello and Danielle Sadler turned in stellar efforts.

St. Robert's D, 29-4

A league-season high 18 points from John Camillus paved the way to this rout of parish rival St. Robert's C. He netted one hoop in quarter one, two in each of the middle stanzas and four in the closing period.

John Wyler had 5, Damon Bellorado 4 and Ryan Jacobson a single bucket. Aaron Fromm and Andrew Ardine played with poise.

Brian Luti's two free throws and Matthew Weiner's score accounted for the SRC points. John Brodbien and Kristen Ford played effectively.

St. Augustine's B, 8-6

Michael McLellan scored one hoop in each period to keynote SAB's third consecutive victory over a tough SAE club. He did all the offensive damage, while his teammates concentrated on stalling the potent SAE five.

McLellan put the B team up 4-0, but Chris Corcoran countered with four points to tie the game at halftime. Rachel Buonopane matched McLellan's score in period three, but that was to be it for the E offense.

"Driving is a lot safer when you have a clear view of the road," advises Registrar of Motor Vehicles Alan Mackey. "So, be sure to keep headlights clean and turn them on during the afternoon commute. Also, before setting out, take a few minutes to clear your windows of ice and snow."

Pee Wee B's Have Busy Week

Two games in two nights appear to be too much, especially when the opponents are first-place Ipswich and a physical Medford club. Andover's defense and netminding are outstanding and losses have all been by one goal.

Ipswich is in first place in the Danvers League. Andover skated to a 1-0 loss against them last Sunday evening. As soon as the puck was dropped, Andover gave them a run for their money. Mike Daley put together an excellent game, stopping many shots close in as this team played tight. The defensive team of John Co stantine and Michael Walsh kept them at bay. Walsh has an excellent shot from the blue line and can be extremely effective on power plays.

Mike D'Angelo and Greg Afarian are playing extremely well in the corners and D'Angelo had a breakaway in the second period that had goal written all over it. Joey Liguori has perfected his slapshot and used it against Ipswich. Unfortunately, Andover was outshot and lost 1-0.

Less than 24 hours later, Andover faced Medford, a team that plays extremely aggressive hockey, the kind played with elbows high. Matt Tanner and John Constantine had their hands full, but they backchecked effectively. Tim Fox played a terrific game, his clean checks topped several Medford players in their tracks. He made an excellent breakaway pass to Billy Owens and he was going all the way. An uncalled tripping succeeded in forcing Owens off the puck. Pete O'Shea had a blazer that hit the goalie in the chest. Danny Feeley dug the puck out of the corners on a number of occasions but Andover lost 3-0.

Martha Washington's silver service, it is said, was the source of the silver that went into the first U.S. coins.

McLellan's final hoop was the scoring difference as Jeff Arsenault, John Donovan and their B associates shut out their parish rivals in the closing quarter.

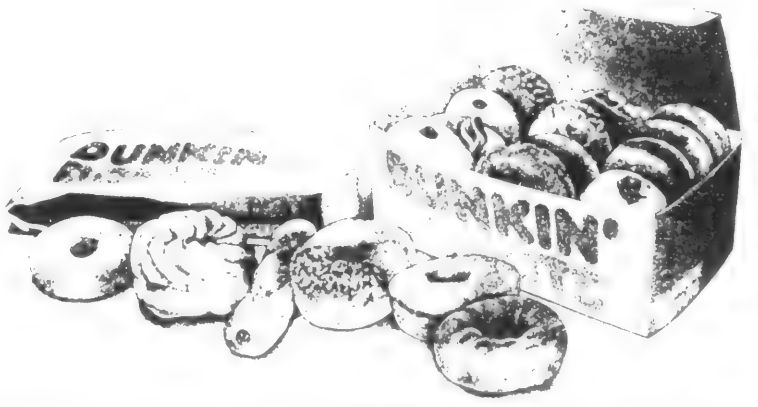

SAE's Tom Feeley contributed a stellar effort in a losing cause.

St. Robert's A toppled defending champion Ballardvale United 13-4, St. Robert's C overpowered St. Augustine's A 35-3 and St. Robert's B, in an overtime thriller, nipped St. Augustine's B 8-7 in games last week in the Intermediate Girl's Division of the Andover Church Basketball League at the West Elementary gym.

The results left St. Robert's C (3-0) and Christ Church (2-0) the only undefeated teams in the league with St. Robert's B (2-1) and Ballardvale United (1-1) each having one loss.

St. Robert's A, 13-4

SRA parlayed the strong rebounding of Kelly Miskell and Julie Newman together with the ball-hawking of Grace Perry to decision perennial powerhouse Ballardvale United.

SRA led 5-0 at halftime and stretched it to 11-2 after three periods.

Newman paced the winner's attack with 4 points, Perry added 3, Maureen Maginnis 2, Dawn Bernard 2 and Natalie Dowell 2.

Kristene O'Sullivan, Tara Cocozza and Shayne Jordan played key roles in the victory.

Rachel Roberts and Melissa Salazar netted field goals for BU while Heather Rotondi, Peggy Dugal, Lisa Hayes and Linda Banzi were defensive stalwarts.

St. Robert's C, 35-3

Joanne McNamara and Diane Castignoli combined for 27 points as SRC coasted to its triumph over St. Augustine's A.

McNamara was game-high marksman with 15 points, Castignoli added 12, Sheila Camillus 6 and Andrea Georgian 2.

Lisa Belmonte had two and Nancy Hoffman converted a foul shot. Susan Hoffman, Katie Robers, Susanne Gemmell and Diane D'Angelo played well for SAA.

St. Robert's B, 8-8 (ot)

Karen Babine netted two free throws in overtime to give SRB a thrilling victory over St. Augustine's B.

Karyn Ragonese notched two foul shots for SAB, then a basket by Patricia Murphy of SRB tied the score at 2-2 at halftime.

Murphy added another hoop in the third frame, but Amy Brocklesby countered with an SAB basket and it was 4-4 after three quarters.

Kelly Walsh's hoop was offset by another bucket by Murphy and the score was 6-6 after regulation play.

The contest was decided at the foul line in overtime as Babine converted two of four, another shot not counting because of a lane violation, while Brocklesby nailed one charity.

SRB defensive stalwarts were Heather Reghillo, Christene Spignesi, Stephanie Kpa, Kristen Simko and Kelly Young. SAB standouts included Danielle Costanza, Cara Morrison, Marsha Gemmell and Una Gauthier.

JV Skaters Impressive

After a slow start and several losses, the Andover J.V. hockey season turned around dramatically last week. Playing smoothly and skating well, three quick victories changed the momentum of this hard-hitting team. With excellent forechecking and backchecking, the maturing of this J.V. team has been impressive.

Andover 2 - Haverhill 1

Chris McAnally opened the scoring in the second period. With assists going to Matt Alden and Mike Moriarty, McAnally tipped the hard Moriarty slap shot into the net. The score remained close 1-0 until late in the third period when Matt Pothier, taking a snappy pass from Kyle McCabe, hammered home what proved to be the game-winning goal.

Andover 6 - Methuen 4

Showing a fierce determination, Andover led 3-0 in this contest, fell behind 4-3 and then came back to overtake Methuen for a 6-4 win. Sparked by Kyle McCabe's hat trick and outstanding play, this Andover team would not be denied. Key goals were scored by Mike Moriarty, Christ Patten and Matt Alden with an excellent performance in goal by Tim Smith.

Andover 12 - Landmark School 1

Overpowering throughout the contest, Andover put on a remarkable offensive and defensive performance. Tim Lane, the fine freshman goalie, was outstanding in net. Chuck Babineau paced all scorers with his well deserved hat trick, followed by consistently scoring Matt Pothier's two goals. Alo putting points on he scoreboard were Kyle McCabe, Greg Kinsky, Andy Weiner, David Sopp, Chris Patten, Mike Moriarty and Todd Bennett.

INFORMATION CONCERNING CABLE TELEVISION FOR EVERYONE.

By Jim Novo. JANUARY 16, 1986

THE VALUE OF BASIC Part two

First, a little background information. It is no secret that video entertainment, particularly movies, are sold and resold to the public several times. Initially, you may pay ticket prices to see a movie in a theatre; video-cassette rental is next, the time lag determined by box office success. After rental profits subside, cable will purchase the rights, and eventually, re-sell the movie rights to broadcast television. At each step, the movie becomes cheaper and more accessible for the viewer. This system exists because the cost of producing movies or TV shows is extraordinary. Network television has been using this system for years; a show like M*A*S*H was produced and aired at a loss for each eipsode, but the dollars are retrieved when the episode goes to syndication across the country. Independent stations purchase these network episodes because of their popularity; the Nielsen ratings which measure viewership will be high. Viewers is what the station is after - more viewers means charging advertisers more money for commercials, and advertising revenue is a station's bread and butter.

amount of crime within the last five or six weeks in Andover and surrounding areas, according to Det. Winters.

In November, nine thousand dollars worth of cameras, antique silver flatware, calculators, wallets, walkmans, and skateboards, taken from dorm rooms and dining commons of Phillips Academy, South Main Street, during ten different incidents, was recovered by the Andover Police. In addition, 15 cases of breaking and entering were solved by Andover detectives and charged to nine Andover youths. A five-week investigation, under the direction of Sgt. Det. John Houlihan working with Det. David Grant, Det. Joseph Hastings and Det. Kevin Winters, climaxed with information that led to the nine youths during the first week of November. The young people in question, clean-cut kids who entered unlocked dorm rooms and put items in book bags and walked out onto the campus, according to Grant. They would fit-in with the Phillips' students and enter the dining commons and take students' book bags, when the students were unaware. The young people in question were asked to come into the station and return the stolen items, according to Sgt. Det. Houlihan. Two of the 16-year old youths were linked to two burglaries to private residences, with a third still under investigation, according to Det. Sgt. Houlihan. All the items from the Phillips Academy thefts have been recovered and claimed by their original owners.

In December, five Andover detectives, in a co-operative effort with the Boston Police, State Police and the Essex County Drug Task Force out of the Lawrence Drug Task Force, seized a man on Monday, Dec. 16, in a West Andover Business Park with a quarter of a million dollars of very pure cocaine. The seizure of two pounds, five ounces of uncut, rock cocaine — that had probably begun the Miami-to-Boston drug route in Columbia — was the largest amount of cocaine seized in the Merrimack Valley int the last two years, according to State Police Staff Sgt. James Jajuga, supervisor of the Lawrence Drug Task Force. The cocaine was taken from the rented car of Anun Fernandez, 35, 196 Broadway, Lawrence. Fernandez, a citizen of the Dominican Republic, who stands over six-feet tall, was arrested without a struggle, according to Jujuga.

Andover joined forces with the other departments in the last stages of the three-week investigation, according to Andover Police Sgt. Jack Houlihan. Fernandez, a first-time offender and inspector for Hewlett-Packard, Minuteman Drive, was arraigned in Lawrence District Court and charged with trafficking in excess of 200 grams, which carries a mandatory sentence of ten years. Bail was set at $100,000 cash.

The eight task force officers were joined by Andover detectives, Sgt. Jack Houlihan, Kevin Burke, Kevin Winters, Joe Hastings, John Bernhardt and David Grant, who worked with the Boston Police on the case.

"It was a cooperative effort that jelled together perfectly. The Andover Police are real professionals," Jajuga said.

Teamwork between patrolmen and detectives make the Andover Police an effective force, according to William "Mac" Mackenzie, a patrolman for the past five years on the Andover Police force, who works the "busiest shift," 5 p.m. to 1 a.m.

"We are a visible deterrent and make the immediate response," Mackenzie said. "We get the call on a housebreak and we make the immediate general investigation, looking for footprints and other evidence. Did they use a car or leave on foot, did any of the neighbors see it happen. When technical help is needed, we call in the detectives, who have the equipment to make fingerprints, take photos, and do the footwork to track down the stolen items."

A burglary report is filled out, with a narrative from the victim, by the patrolman. When a copy is sent down to the Detective Division, an officer from there will do a followup investigation within a week's time.

"We look for the methods, how the break may relate to other breaks," Det. Sgt. Jack Houlihan said. "We study the map and see if there is a concentration of burglaries in a certain area, canvass the neighborhood and talk to all types of neighbors, "did they see anything," a car or any form of common denominator.

"Often the burglar will ring the doorbell to see if anyone is home. If the door is answered, they will ask directions to a street that is close by," Houlihan said. "When we canvass, we try find out if this has happened in the neighborhood, show pictures and try to find a starting point. Then we talk with other departments and compare breaks, trying to find a similar nature and area."

"Sometimes during routine stops for traffic violations, drugs are found," Mackenzie said. "When we arrest them, they might give us information that the detectives, who have the time and equipment, can expound upon. They can get a search warrant and make a good arrest."

Part of the patrolmen's routine, is checking the locks after closing of the town's businesses. A lot of the time, when the doors are open, breaks have been committed.

"We know then. The merchant doesn't have to wait until the morning to find out." Mackenzie said. "Visibility is important, when someone is checking out the building for a possible break and sees you checking it along with him, it's a deterrent."

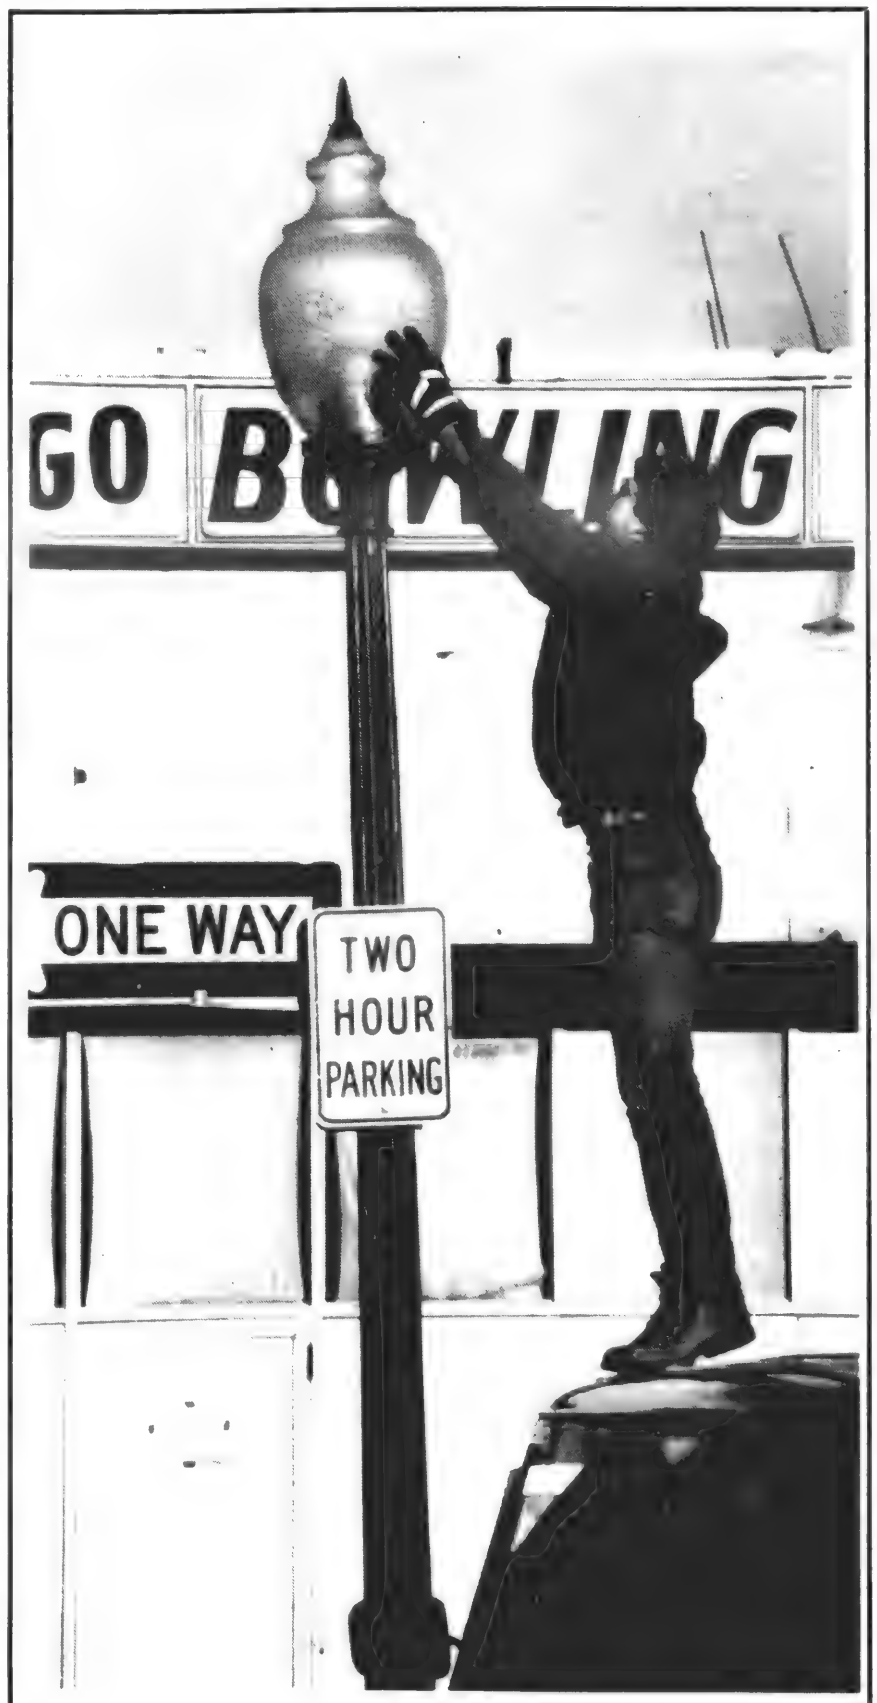

Internal alarms can be dangerous for the patrolman, according to Mackenzie, "If an alarm rings within the house or business, the burglar will often leave right away, if it only rings in the police station, we may be able to take him by surprise, one on each side of the house. You never know what will happen," Mackenzie said.

People are often careless, not leaving lights on, not telling the neighbors that they will be away, allowing eight or nine newspapers to pile up on their front steps, making their house a good prospect for a burglar, Mackenzie said.

"Andover Police Chief James Johnson works to get new equipment, most cars have radar units, we have a statewide computer system, and a town computer system that can check a motorist for any violations or complaints made against him or by him within the town."

In 1985, there were 267 warrants issued from the Andover Police Dept., 157 arrests for operating under the influence; 29 arrests for transporting liquor while under the age of 21; 12 larcenies of a motor vehicle, 13 arrests for possession of cocaine; 2 for possession of heroin; 8 assaults with a dangerous weapon; 2 assault and batteries; 3 arrests for indecent assault; 6 for receiving stolen property; 1 unarmed robbery; 15 larcenies, five involving juveniles; 12 operations after revocation of license; 12 operating without a license and 11 arrests operating after suspension of a license.

Statistics for the 1985 arrests were compiled by Leslie Hewett, information specialist for the Andover Police Dept., and provided to the TOWNSMAN by Andover Police Chief James Johnson.

Strong winds seem to be rattling and shaking everything, including the lamp covers for street lights on Bartlet and Park Streets. Town employee Dave Beliveau stands on his van for extra height as he adjusts a cover Wednesday morning.

Merrimack College Sports Wrap-Up

By Paul McCarthy
Sports Information Director

The men's basketball team spent the better part of last week in Virginia and Washington, D.C., taking in the sights, while the hockey team ventured to Colorado and San Diego in search of hockey foes. Coach Bert Hammel's cagers lost a pair of games at the Randolph-Macon Tournament in Ashland, Va., and coach Ron Anderson's skaters managed just one victory (over Air Force) in for tries.

The Lady Warriors basketball team finally got on track, winning three straight games after losing their first five tilts. Led by a talented freshman guard (Jenny Jenkins), coach Marcia Hochman's cagers defeated Lowell 56-54, Eastern Nazarene 65-35 and UMass-Boston (74-57). Jenkins averaged just under 14 points and five rebounds in the three games and has quickly emerged as the club's backcourt leader. Former Ipswich High standout Jean Clarkin, a junior captain, also played well. Now Merrimack's top scorer (11.1 pg.) she scored 14 points and grabbed seven rebounds in the win over ULowell and chipped in 13 points and an individual season-high 14 rebounds against UMass-Boston.

Despite the two losses in Virginia, the Merrimack men's basketball team is still ranked among the top five teams in New England, and deservedly so. Both Randolph-Macon and Mount St. Mary's are perennial Division II national powers and Merrimack came very close to upsetting Mount St. Mary's following a poor effort against host Randolph-Macon.

Senior co-captain Bob Venora was named to the all-tournament team for a pair of 14-point efforts, while fomer Andover resident Tim Hart played a great game against Mount St. Mary's, scoring 26 points and grabbing 10 rebounds in the losing cause. The Warriors were still undefeated this season at home (3-0) heading into the Northeast-8 Conference opener against Bentley on Wednesday.

Merrimack's hockey team was re-grouping for the ECAC-II grind which begins today (Thursday) with a home game gainst American International College. Merrimack split a pair of games with Air Force (9-3 win, 7-5 loss), dropped a pair of games in San Diego to U.S. International Univesity (4-1 and 6-5 in overtime) which dropped the overall record to 11-7. The Warriors were till 9-2 in the ECAC II race, however, and are one of the top contenders for the title. Standouts on the recent trip include Jim Vesey, a sophomore forward, and Bob Fowler, a junior defenseman who used to skate for Central Catholic High. Vesey scored four goals and assisted on three others. Fowler, a rugged defenseman from Tewksbury, assisted on seven goals in four games.

Merrimack plays at Babson in a Saturday 3:30 p.m. start and entertains Colby Tuesday at the Volpe Complex at 7:30 p.m.

Worship

In Celebration of Christian Unity Week (January 18-25), the Boston Theological Institute will hold an Ecumenical Worship Service, to which the public is invited, on Thursday, Jan. 23, at 5:30 p.m. at the chapel in Saint Mary's Hall on the campus of Boston College in Chestnut Hill.

The Boston Theological Institute is a consortium of nine schools of theology in the Greater Boston area: Andover Newton Theological School, Boston College Department of Theology, Boston University School of Theology, Episcopal Divinity School, Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary, Harvard Divinity School, Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology, Saint John's Seminary and the Weston School of Theology.

Three Teams Tied For Lead

St. Robert's A, St. Augustine's C and South A remained undefeated and tied for first place in the Intermediate Division of the Andover Church Basketball League, all three recording decisive victories, in fourth-round action last week at the West Junior High School gym.

Beal was game-high with 11 points Bakerk and Green added 8 apiece, Sanjiv Sheel had 2 and Paul Durant converted a free throw.

South A, 31-12

Scott Eggert (10) and Matt Reghitto (9) were the sharpshooters as SA kept its unbeaten record intact with an easy win over South B.

Other contributors were Wayne Mattola (4), Matt Orlando (4), Josh Adams (2) and Todd Gray (2).

Brendan O'Neil and Ryan Hanson had 4 points apiece for SB and Sean Baldwin and Tim Grogean netted single baskets.

St. Robert's B, 48-21

Joey Marinaro had 8, Chris Dziadosz 6, Greg Poor 4, Steve Shepard 4 and Greg Arserio 2.

Eric Block paced the diversified offense of TEA with 8 points, Philip Boness played some aggressive defense and added 6 points, Jeremy Scherr, Justin Rosenblatt and Joshua Nelken accounted for 2 apiece and Johnny Dwight notched a foul shot.

St. Augustine's A, 29-13

SAA dominated Temple Emanuel B in the second half to earn their initial win of the season.

Chris Lembo and Larry Gibson paced the winners with 6 points apiece, Dan Hinchey had 4, Paul Lisiak 4, Bobby Lee 4, Tom Torrisi 2, Chris Zappala 2 and Mike Torrisi had a free throw.

pensation system, the bill sailed through the Legislature with no opposition. The medical and legal establishments are similarly deadlocked over the medical malpractice insurance issue.

Other common reasons for a bill's demise are lack of public interest, fiscal constraints or internal power-politics among legislators. It's fair to say that public attention plays the most important role in the fate of a bill. If the media and the citizens focus on an issue—the surtax repeal, for example — the Legislature generally responds.

Frigid-Weather Words from Couture & Sons Radiator

It's a cold, blustery day; Leo J. Couture's chief radiator repairman, "Stan the Man, the Radiator Man", is busy.

Very busy.

"See this?" Stan the Man picks up a piece of somebody's defunct radiator and points to a white, scaly deposit on the top of its core, where the tubes that carry engine-cooling water should open. The white scales seal those tube openings completely. "Acid deposits." Stan the Man shakes his head. "You should flush out antifreeze every 2½ to 3 years." He chucks the old core into a corner and takes a new one from a box.

Had the owner of the radiator observed that simple, relatively inexpensive point of maintenance, Stan the Man would not be readying his soldering iron. But it probably didn't seem like anything pressing to the owner of the car, this periodic flush-out.

Some people don't think about checking the antifreeze level in their system, either. Stan the Man gets to meet them, too. "When the antifreeze isn't right, the water can freeze," he says. "Sometimes, it bursts the seams of the radiator. Or maybe it'll crack the engine block."

Stan the Man is an experienced guy. For nine years, he's been rebuilding radiators. He's proud of his skills—the way he can graft a new core onto your tank, or patch up your system, or even fix your heater. He can save you a lot of money on major repairs, and get the job done, in most cases, in a day.

But even though a new radiator core, or a reconditioned radiator, is less expensive than a brand-new radiator, and even though Couture's guarrantees the reconditioned parts for 60 days (used radiators) and 30 days (used heater cores), extensive repairs are far more costly than routine maintenance.

Stan the Man's a nice guy. He'd rather see you before you need his more complicated skills.

So give Stan the Man the boring work to do—the small things; the check-ups and clean-ups your car requires. And give yourself and your car a break. Stan the Man does his "thing" from 8-5 Mon-Fri; 8-12 Sat. Call him at 685-9703 now—

Or see him, at 54 Medford St. in Lawrence, later.

AAA Vacuum: From Central Vac to the Buster B

Bob Jackson can't say enough the Oreck XL.

Jackson, who owns AAA Vacuum Cleaners at 267 S. Broadway in Lawrence, isn't the only guy who considers the Oreck XL one of the country's best portable vacuums. Bruce Arnold of WCCM; Dave Maynard of WBZ; the folks at the Regency, Ramada, and Howard Johnson hotels (to name a few); even the staff of the White House—they're all believers in the high-speed wonder vac that was once only available for commercial use.

Jackson can extoll the virtues of the Oreck's super-power motor, or its double-brush action. He can let you heft the thing—a mere eight pounds. He can even let you heft a bag packed by its top-fill dust collection system; it can be heavier than the vacuum itself, and still not hamper the machine's performance.

Yes, and Jackson can talk price with you. At $299, it costs about what you'd expect for a high-quality system. But when you buy the XL, you also get a Buster B—Oreck's hand-held high performance portable vacuum cleaner—absolutely free. That's no gimmick; the Buster B normally goes for $114.

Jackson could tell you all about it. But he'd prefer to demonstrate the Oreck XL—and that, you have to see to believe.

Jackson and AAA sales manager Scott Fieldhouse don't base their entire 35-year business on the Oreck. AAA sells everything in the field. Central vacuums? At AAA, you have a choice of nine central systems—roughly 30 models—for new or existing homes.

And, of course, there are other portable vacuums—more than 300 makes and models, including Kirby, Hoover, Electrolux and Eureka. "We sell the best and service the rest," says Jackson—"and we won't be undersold."

AAA also sells little vacuums. The types that will wisk dirt from your car's interior, or tidy those hard-to-reach spots in a fuss-free instant. All kinds, from deluxe models, like the Buster B, to standard hand-vacs.

Whatever your vacuum cleaning need—from a central system, to the Oreck XL and its fellow portables, to one of the mighty midgets—you'll find it at AAA. AAA Vacuum is open 8-5 Mon-Sat; phone 685-0520.

ARTICLE:

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning By-Law and its accompanying Zoning Map, Article VIII of the Town By-Laws, to relocate the zoning boundary between the Industrial D and Single Residence C districts in the Chandler Road area as follows:

That the southerly boundary line along Chandler Road of the Industrial D district bounded by the Merrimack River is relocated to the following position:

Beginning at a point two hundred (200) feet east of the center line of Brundrett Avenue and three hundred (300) feet north of the center line of Chandler Road, extending in an easterly and south-easterly direction along a line located three hundred (300) feet north of the center line of Chandler Road for such distance as will cause the relocated boundary to intersect three hundred (300) feet north of the center line of Chandler Road with the existing eastern boundary of said Industrial D district where it meets the Single Residence C district.

ARTICLE

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning By-Law, Article VIII of the Town By-Laws, as follows:

(1) That Section VI.A.3. is deleted in its entirety and replaced with a new section VI.A.3. to read as follows:

"3. Design Standards:

a. Dimensions: Parking spaces and maneuvering aisles shall be laid out in compliance with the minimum dimensions set forth in the following table:

MINIMUM PARKING SPACE & AISLE DIMENSIONS FOR PARKING AREAS (in feet)

Angle of Parking	Width of Parking Space	Depth of Parking Space	Width of Maneuvering Aisle
61 to 90 degrees	9'	18'	24'
46 to 60 degrees	9'	1*'	18'
45 degrees	9'	18	15'
Parallel*	8'	22'	14' (one-way)
			20' (two-way)

*To be counted as a required parking space, a parallel parking space shall have a maneuvering space at least 20' deep in front of it in an aisle parallel to and abutting such parking space.

b. Layout:

(1) Access to and egress from all parking areas shall be only via driveways which meet the design standards of Section VI.A.3.c..
(2) All portions of all parking spaces, loading areas and maneuvering aisles shall be set back a minimum of five (5) feet from any street or way and a minimum of five (5) feet from any property line. Curbs, wheel stops, screening or similar barriers shall be installed along the setback line for parking and loading to prevent vehicles from being parked or driven within required setback areas or required landscaped areas.
(3) Each required off-street parking space and loading area shall be designed so that any motor vehicle may proceed to and from said parking space or loading area without requiring the moving of any other vehicle or the passing over of any other parking space or loading area.
(4) Each parking area shall be designed to provide a circulation system within the lot so that all vehicles may exit from and enter onto the adjacent street or way by being driven in a forward direction and no vehicle shall be required to enter or leave by backing.
(5) All required parking spaces (except those for residential uses in districts MF, SRA, SRB & SRC) shall be marked to provide delineation between parking stalls and aisles.

c. Driveways:

(1) The maximum number of driveways permitting entrance to and exit from a lot shall be limited to two per streetline.
(2) The minimum width of a driveway used for two-way traffic shall be 24'. The minimum width of a driveway used for one-way traffic shall be 14'. The maximum width shall not exceed 30'.
(3) Driveways shall be located so as to minimize conflict with traffic on public streets and where good visibility and sight distances are available to observe approaching pedestrian and vehicular traffic.

d. Loading Areas:

(1) An adequate number of off-street loading areas shall be provided for any use which may be serviced by delivery vehicles.
(2) Loading areas shall be located in side or rear yards only.
(3) Each loading area shall be located separately from employee and customer parking and shall be designed to protect pedestrian safety and avoid traffic conflicts with vehicles within, without, and entering and leaving the lot where the loading area is located.
(4) No area may be utilized and counted as both a required parking space and a required loading area.
(5) Each loading area shall consist of a bay measuring at least 30' long, 12' wide and 14' high if covered and a maneuvering space equal to the length of the bay.

e. Additional Standards for General Business District:
Where alternative access locations are feasible, parking lot driveways shall not provide access onto Main Street unless granted a Special Permit by the Planning Board upon its determination that such access onto Main Street is dictated by consideration of safety, congestion or conflict with other premises.

f. Additional Standards for Industrial Districts: In all Industrial districts, the following shall apply:

(1) Each parking area shall contain no more than two hundred forty(240) parking spaces;
(2) Each parking area shall be enclosed (except for access points) by a landscaped buffer not less than twelve (12) feet wide, planted with shade trees;
(3) Each parking area shall have interior landscaping areas, primarily planted with trees, equivalent in size to five (5) per cent of that parking area's total pavement area;
(4) There shall be no more than thirty (30) spaces in any uninterrupted row;
(5) The size of a parking space may be reduced to eight and a half (8½) feet wide by eighteen (18) feet deep which shall be in addition to areas required for driveways, loading, walks and circulation if the parking lot is to service all-day parkers. Uses which generate frequent parking space turnover shall be required to have the standard size parking spaces (nine (9) feet wide by eighteen (18) feet deep)."

(2) That Section VI.A.6.i. and Section VI.A.7.c. and Section VI.A.7.d. are deleted in their entirety, since they are superceded by the new Section VI.A.3.

or pass or take any vote or action relative to any of said proposed amendments.

Peep-Hole Dangerous

"Peep-hole driving" is one of the most dangerous of all 'winter sports'," the American Automobile Association says.

"Drivers who do no more than turn on their windshield wipers to make small holes to peep through after a snowfall certainly show their inexperience," according to Richard T. Sawyer, assistant manager of the Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley. "Good drivers know they must be able to see in all directions.

"Throughout the winter, make a habit of removing all snow from all windows and from as much of your car as possible," the AAA official said. "Snow left on the hood can blow back against the windshield when you are moving along. Snow on your car's roof can be blown off and may hit another car."

Tires

For those drivers who want the best possible protection against winter-driving problems, radial snow tires are the answer," said Kevin Clement, manager of the road service department of AAA Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley. However, he pointed out that radial snow tires will result in lower gas mileage, make for a noisier ride on dry pavement and should be used only during the winter months.

"Radial tires themselves are at the next level of effectiveness for winter driving," Clement said. "They're certainly not as good as radial snow tires or 'all-season' radials, but they are superior to regular bias-ply tires."

Clement suggested that owners of front-wheel drive vehicles consult their owners' manual for the best advice on tires for that type of vehicle.

Fresh Start

Smokers can learn how to get a fresh start on life by attending the "Fresh Start" smokers' liberation workshop, a five-part program at Bon Secours Hospital of Methuen, beginning January 16 from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

This program, developed by the American Cancer Society, is designed to help smokers quit by exploring smoking habits, reasons for smoking and the decision to quit.

The piano was invented by an Italian harpsichord maker called Bartolommeo Cristofori to remedy the harpsichord's inability to play soft, "piano" in Italian, and loud "forte."

Musical

"Brigadoon," Lerner and Loewe's classic romantic musical, will be presented at Andover's J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts on Monday, Feb. 3, at 7 p.m. Tickets are available at the Collins Center box office, Shawsheen Road, off Routes 133 and 93 in Andover.

REPORTING INSTALLMENT INCOME

If you sell a piece of property and the money will be paid to you in, say, three equal installments, how should you report the gain on your tax return?

You can either report your gains each year you receive them, or you can report the entire gain on your tax return for the year in which the sale was made. Often you can save taxes by delaying your income with an installment sale.

On your tax form, the return of your original investment is untaxed, your profit will probably be taxed at capital gains rates, and any interest from the installment sale is counted as ordinary income.

However, if you claimed accelerated depreciation deductions, they will be partially "recaptured," meaning you must now report some of those deductions as ordinary income. According to the new rules, these recaptured deductions must be reported as of the year of the sale and not in installments. Be careful: You might have a big tax bill, and not get all your money for two more years.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

By Rose Romano G.R.I.
Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

GETTING PREQUALIFIED FOR A LOAN

Many lenders help prospective buyers to get prequalified for a mortgage loan before they begin a serious house-hunting effort. You sit down with a loan officer, give all the information about your assets, income and debt, and they can tell you how much of a mortgage you will be able to get under the various loan plans being offered. For a nominal fee, they will do a credit check. If there are any problems with your credit rating, you and the lender can work together to straighten things out.

If your lender prequalifies you, it makes you much more attractive to the seller when you do find a home. this market is so active that many houses have multiple offers come in within days, even hours, after they are listed for sale. If you are competing with other buyers, it will be helpful if you have included with your offer a letter from your lender showing you've already begun the loan application process and appear to be qualified to buy the house. It will also save you and your Realtor a lot of time by eliminating from consideration homes you would not be able to afford.

Realty USA, Schruender Real Estate is happy to serve all of your real estate needs. If you are planning a move, call us at 685-5000 or stop by our office at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

Curriculum Instruction Plan To Be Presented Tuesday

A presentation of the curriculum instruction plan by school administrators for the community, that will focus on the essential direction of the Andover school system over the next three to four years, will be given on Tuesday, Jan. 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the West Elementary School, Beacon Street.

The Andover Public Schools Curriculum and Instruction Plan was the culmination of a six-month effort by Supt. Kenneth Seifert, Asst. Supt. for Elementary Education Lois Haslam and Asst. Supt. for Secondary Education Dr. Leslie Loomis to fulfill requirements that the Central Office suggest a multi-year plan for the School Committee to consider.

The curriculum and instructional plan is primarily suggestions from the three administrators and not a specific plan for direction. If the plan is accepted the school administrators hope to achieve:

An appropriate K—12 curriculum, greater instructional flexibility; improved thinking skills; greater student leadership; greater student responsibility for learning; consistent standards; more appropriate technological assistance and enhanced staff development.

"A presentation of the curriculum instruction plan has been presented to the faculty and administrative staff. It has created a lot of discussion," Supt. Seifert said. "We would like the community to have a chance to see the presentation and become aware of what it means for the future of the Andover Public Schools."

The presentation will be open to all interested members of the community. A question-and-answer period will be held following the program. The audience will be invited to discuss the curriculum instruction plan with the School Committee and School Administrators.

Town Boards To Discuss Budget

There will be a joint meeting of the Selectmen, School Committee and Finance Committee on Wednesday, Jan. 22, in the in the second floor meeting room in the town offices, Bartlet Street entrance. The topic of discussion will be the town budget to be submitted at Town Meeting on Monday, April 7.

The School Committee will make a presentation of the curriculum instruction plan on Tuesday, Jan. 21, at the West Elementary School, Beacon Street. The presentation will be open to all interested members of the community and there will be a question-and-answer period with school administrators and school committee members on the curriculum instruction plan, following the presentation.
